he got the $500, I believe. He told me that he had paid several bills. He didn't intend to give me the money.
He had been flourishing money in a barroom and they were afraid that he would lose it and told Officer Ladnam about it. Officer Ladnam and another officer came to his room that night while I was there. Hobart handed the money to Officer Ladnam and told him to give it to me. I held the $200 for about three weeks and he came to me every day for some of it and I gave it to him. In three weeks I turned the remainder of it over to Mrs. Lindsay, supposed to be his place. She said she could take care of it and I gave it to her. Mr. Hobart was indignant because I gave his niece the money, saying that she had no right to it."

Nearly Asphyxiated
"Were you in his room when he was nearly asphyxiated by gas?" asked Mr.
Hogan.

"I was not. I was first told of it by Mrs. Lindsay. I am not certain whether it was before or after he had recovered the money."

"Did he have any money after he left the hospital?"

"I don't know."

"He went to Mrs. Lindsay's to live then, didn't he?"

"I don't see how he could. She had just one room for herself and her husband."

"After he received the $1000 he sent for me and I called on him," continued the witness.

"Up to this time he had no money and was depending on Mrs. Lindsay for his board, wasn't he?"

"I don't know. I gave him money at times. I called on him at Mrs. Linsday's when he was there as she came after me to invite me up to see him."

"Did he ever tell you about attempting to take his life?"

"No, sir. I asked him what had happened and he said he didn't know."

Mrs. Handley stated that while Mr.
Hobart was sick last June she cashed several checks for him. She borrowed some money from him when her mother died and paid it back the following Saturday.

Mrs. Handley stated that on some of her visits to Mr. Hobart's room she was accompanied by girls named Ella Geary and Minnie McMaisters.

"Didn't you see Mr. Hobart drunk often after he had received the money than before?" asked Mr. Hogan.

"No. He never lost his head. He drank regularly, but he had a lame step and a person who didn't know him might think that he was intoxicated."

Examined by Mr. Harvey, Mrs.
Handley stated that when Mr. Hobart was ill prior to March, 1908, she managed and pressed his clothing, cleaned his room, made his bed, bandaged his sore foot and went on errands for him.
When he was working she looked after his clothes and his room. She did this for a year or two, after the death of the old lady who used to look after his room.

"Did you know then that he was heir to an estate?"

"I did not and he did not know himself. The first I knew of it was after he received the money. When he got it he paid most of his back bills. He owed for room rent and money he had borrowed."

"Was he much of a reader?"

"He was. He liked his books and daily papers."

"What books did he read?"

"He read Shakespeare and other books."

"Did he ask you to read to him?"

"Yes, when he got so he couldn't read, he asked me to read Shakespeare to him. I tried it but I couldn't get interested in it. He used to tell me about the politics of the day and explained to me what the mayor and city council were doing. He spoke about his relatives. He said that he wouldn't give anything to Mrs. Lindsay because she could get money from her father who got an equal share with him. Mrs.
Welton would get some money from her folks. He introduced me to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Welton's mother, and he made me acquainted with Mrs.
Lindsay."

"When Mr. Hobart delivered the will to her, she asked him, 'What are you going to give me—your old shoes?'
He laughed, and said it didn't look very good now, but later on, she would find that it was some benefit to her. He told her not to give the will up to anybody, not even himself."

"A month or two later, she says Mr.
Hobart came to her at the Farragut house during the noon hour, while she was busy. 'He was drunker than I ever saw him, before or since,' she said. 'He asked me for the will, and I told him I did not have it. He said he wanted it to borrow money out.'

Mrs. Handley further testified that in June, 1909, Mr. Hobart was run over by an automobile. While he was laid up in his room, she used to bathe him and otherwise care for him.
She asked him about sending for his relatives, and he said they did not bother about him and he would not bother about them. She learned the address of a niece, Mrs. Welton, and went for her. Also called Dr. Patenaude, who ordered him to the hospital. They asked him where his money was, and he indicated a chest, and unlocked it.
She then went out, while he and Mrs.
Welton were looking at the money.

"When I came back," said Mrs. Handley, "Mrs. Welton was not there. She asked him if he had given her the money to pay for a week in advance at the hospital, and he said he had not."

She further said that she went and brought in a woman who roomed in the same house, who saw her open the box and take out $10, which she gave to the doctor. The doctor gave her back $5. Then he was taken in the ambulance to the corporation hospital. She went with him in the ambulance. He told her to take care of the will, to take it down to Mr. Pratt, and to pay certain bills. He was at the hospital six days before he died.

After taking him to the hospital she went back to the room. Mrs. Welton came to see her, and they went over,
and she turned over all of the money and papers to Mrs. Welton. There was $25.55. None of the relatives from Manchester came down.

At 4 o'clock p. m. the hearing was suspended, to be resumed next Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

TWIN SULLIVAN BOWLING NOTES

Was Easily Defeated by Frank Klaus

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Frank Klaus of Pittsburg hammered Jack (Twin) Sullivan of Boston for 12 rounds at the Acme A. & L. last night and easily won the decision. Sullivan was unable to stem the attack of the Pittsburg boy and made a very poor showing in all but the second and last rounds. Klaus landed right and left swings to the head frequently and then clinched for a terrible body punishment on his opponent.

The preliminaries were also hard fought bouts. Dan Sullivan, brother of the Twins, defeating Vernon Austin, middleweight champion of Canada in eight rounds in which the Canadian put up a game battle.

Frank Madele of Pittsburg, Klaus' partner, won from "Kid" Shea of Roxbury in eight rounds.

LICENSE BOARD

Hears Charges Against Haverhill Liquor Dealer

HAVERHILL, Jan. 19.—The license board sat in special session last evening to hear evidence to substantiate charges preferred by City Marshal
John J. Mack against Bartholomew Cronin & Co., proprietors of a hotel on Washington street, this city, but as Judge John J. Winn, counsel for defendant, sought specifications of the eight charges preferred, the board voted to postpone the hearing until next Monday evening. In the meantime specifications will be filed.

The eight charges alleged that Cronin or his agents sold liquor after 11 o'clock at night and before 6 in the morning; that he sold to persons under the influence of liquor; to persons who had been intoxicated within six months; to a minor; that he kept a disorderly, indecent house; had ceased to engage in the business they were licensed for; and that they did not have on their premises either food or implements to provide a meal of vituals for strangers and travelers.

In the charges made by the marshal some of the dates on which the violations alleged to have taken place are named, but no names are mentioned as to who might be referred to.

Judge Winn fought stubbornly for a half hour, but the license board did not give in until City Solicitor George M.
G. Nichols recommended that a postponement be ordered to next Monday night and that in the meantime the marshal furnish specifications. Judge Winn spared for time, for in any event Cronin will not be able to engage in his business after May 1, the city having gone no-license.

CORONER'S JURY

To Consider Freight
Train's Evidence

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A freight train's evidence in a coroner's inquest was in course of preparation today near Croton, N. Y., where Spencer Trask, the banker, was recently killed in a railroad accident. The momentum of a train of 14 heavily loaded freight cars is to be tested in a demonstration conducted tomorrow for the purpose of helping the coroner place responsibility for the accident.

The aggregate weight of the cars will be the same as that of the train which ran into the express which was partly telescoped in the Croton wreck, and the ability of the engineer to see the signals and to stop the train within a given distance will be practically demonstrated, according to the announced plans of the coroner.

SECOND FLOOR

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The cross of the Legion of Honor has been conferred on Howard Thompson, Paris correspondent of the Associated Press, according to information received in this city by Mrs. Harry Bingham. The minister of foreign affairs of the French cabinet is said to have presented the name of Mr. Thompson for the decoration.

Mr. Thompson is well known to the members of the newspaper profession here, elsewhere and in Europe. He represented the Associated Press in Cuba during the Spanish war and subsequently in St. Petersburg, whence he was transferred to Paris.

groins and gardeners, but in reality, it is said, they are former secret service men, whose only duty is the protection of Mr. Rockefeller and his family and property. The Pocantico Hills estate is one of the finest in America. It is said to be Mr. Rockefeller's favorite residence, and he spends much of his time walking and driving about the grounds and playing golf on his private links. The residence of his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is close by.

LIABLE TO FINE
If You are Caught
Throwing Snowballs

The throwing of snowballs by boys and young men, many of the latter old enough to know better, is becoming so pronounced of late that it is absolutely dangerous to pass through some streets. Of course we have all been boys and enjoyed throwing snowballs, and the man of today does not generally get mad when he is "lanced" with a soft snowball by some youngster. It is the icy snowball, thrown with powerful speed by a strong armed 24 or 25 year old "youth" that causes the damage and is liable to injure the person it hits.

There is a great deal of "snowball" throwing in the vicinity of the mill gates shortly before one o'clock while some of the mail operatives are waiting for the one o'clock bell. The foreigners are generally the targets for the expert marksmen, and more than one has felt the sting of an icy snowball, but feeling that it does little or no good to protest he takes his medicine and says nothing. The nurses, who wounded body and feelings.

This noon a crowd of young men, who were standing near the canal bridge at the junction of Market and Dutton streets were making it hot for passersby and a number of men and women had narrow escapes from being struck.

A little enforcement of the law would probably put a stop to this kind of fun. There is a city ordinance which covers snowballing and sets the fine at not more than $20 for each offense. The law relative to sport of this kind is found in sections 23 and 45 of chapter 39 of the city ordinances which read as follows:

Section 23—"No person shall, within the limits of any public street or highway in the city, play any game of ball, snowball, football, or any other game, amusement or exercise, interfering with the convenient and free use of such street or highway by persons traveling or passing along the same."

Section 45—"Any person who shall offend against any of the provisions of this chapter from section twelve to 40, both inclusive, shall be punished for each offense by a fine not exceeding $20."

FUNERALS

McCoy.—The funeral of the late Joseph F. McCoy took place yesterday from the home of Mr. and Mrs.
John McBride, 16 Pollard street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased as well as a delegation from the heavy coast artillery, Seventh company, stationed at Fort Banks, Winthrop, of which the deceased was a member.

The funeral cortege proceeded to St.
Peter's church in Gorham street, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9.30 o'clock by Rev. John Burns. The choir was in attendance and rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Miss May E. Whitley sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion of the service "Jesu Salvator Mundi" was rendered by James E. Donnelly.
As the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "In Paradisum."
Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ.

There was a wealth of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings in evidence showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends.
The following were the most prominent:

Large pillow of roses and pinks and galax leaves inscribed "Brother" from the family; spray of pinks and forget-me-nots tied with pink ribbon with inscription "Uncle" from the Mc-Bride children, niece and nephew of the deceased; large floral piece representing knapsack and blanket, with inscription "Seventh Co., U. S. A.," from the Heavy Artillery, Fort Banks;

large standing wreath on heavy sympathy of soldiers of the Heavy Artillery of Fort Banks; wreath of roses, pinks and galax leaves, sympathy of the Misses Sparks; large wreath of galax leaves, maiden hair ferns and violets from Mr. John McCoy and family; sprays of pinks tied with pink ribbons from Mr. James McCoy and family, Miss Theresa Monahan, Mr.
Joseph Read and family; Mr. and Mrs.
Hardy and Miss Alice Casey; wreath of roses and galax leaves, sympathy of friends of the deceased; wreath of roses and ferns, sympathy of Mr.
John Cunningham and family.

Among the friends from out of town who were present were Mrs. John Mc-Donald of Brockton, Mrs. W. L. Crossman of Boston, Mrs. William Keenan of Dorchester and Mrs. John McCoy and family of Wamesit. There were also present from Fort Banks the following: Capt. William J. Gillson, Musical Leonard and Privates E. J.
Connolly, McGrath, Middleton, Scammon, Thomas, White and St. Gaudy.

The bearers were Messrs. John Mc-Coy, Barney Roach, James Morrison, Luke McKella, James Burke and Francis P. Duggan.

The interment was in the Catholic cemetery where the members of the coast artillery fired a volley over the grave. The committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Burns. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker
John F. Rogers.

GLINN CURTISS

To Fight the Wright Infringement Case

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 19.— Northern California cities, San Francisco, Oakland and probably Sacramento, are about to see aeroplane flights within a few days. Charles F.
Willard, who established the landing record among other feats at Dominiguez, announced today that he would go north either Friday or Saturday to give demonstrations. Paulhan, may go also. But Curtiss said he would have to hurry on to fight the Wright infringement case.

According to the treasurer's report,
the first aviation meeting in America, which closes tomorrow has been an unqualified success. Those whose subscriptions made it possible to bring the noted French and American aviators here will receive every dollar they risked and probably more with good crowds today and tomorrow. Attendance so far has averaged 30,000 a day.
Receipts have been estimated at close to $25,000 a day and half that amount for each of the ten days would total sufficient to cover the estimated expense of $100,000 for the meeting.

Cortlandt Field Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, will remain here until Saturday, when the aviation committee has scheduled a sightseeing excursion through the citrus district for aviators and officials.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 19.—The John D. Rockefeller estate at Pocandeputy sheriffs, authorized by Sheriff Scherp of Westchester county to carry arms and repel, by force if necessary, any trespass on the grounds. On request of Mr. Rockefeller the sheriff ap-power to act within the limits of the estate. They are ostensibly coachmen,

KIDNAPS GIRLS

Mrs. Greene Takes Two From Pittsfield Shakers

PITTSFIELD, Jan. 19.—A sensational kidnapping occurred at the West Pittsfield Shaker settlement late Monday afternoon, when Lillith May Robinson, a Boston nurse and the divorced wife of George H. Greene of Springfield, got possession of her two little daughters, who had been placed with the Shakers, bundled them into a sleigh and escaped to this city, leaving yesterday for Boston.

Mrs. Robinson, as she calls herself, arrived here Monday and took a room at the American house. She immediately engaged a team of horses and a two-seated sleigh from a local liveryman and drove to the Shaker settlement, three miles west of Pittsfield.

Arriving there she met Eldressess Emoretta and Carolina and asked to see Florence and Gertrude Greene, saying that she was their Aunt Elsie.

Florence, aged 11, and Gertrude, aged 8, were overjoyed when their mother met them, but she cautioned them not to say anything and presently asked if she might take them out for a drive. Being somewhat suspicious the Shakers refused, but permitted them to step out "to see the horses."

The children had no outside wraps and as they reached the sleigh, the woman quickly lifted them in, wrapped them in the heavy robes and the driver whipped up his horses.

In an interview after the kidnapping Mrs. Robinson said that she was married to George H. Greene, a traveling salesman, more than 20 years ago and that two children were born to them, of whom the two girls figuring in Monday's sensation are the youngest.

She said that they were happy for many years, but two years ago her husband became unreasonably jealous and trouble ensued which resulted in her seeking a divorce on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment.

Relying on her husband's promise that the children should be well cared for Mrs. Robinson says she waived all claim on them, another reason being that she was without means and had to go to work to support herself.

It was agreed that she should see the children when she desired, but she asserted that her husband did not keep his agreement and the children were placed beyond her reach.

She but recently learned that the girls were brought to Pittsfield by Corn Stemp, who lives in the same house with Mr. Greene in Springfield.

Greene, it is said, arranged to pay the Shakers $2 a week for a year, after which time the children were to be given over to the Shakers until they were 21. Mrs. Robinson said that she objected to having her daughters brought up by the Shakers, although admitting that they had been very kind to them.

She said that as she expects soon to marry a Boston physician she determined to get possession of them and bring them up herself.

Mrs. Robinson is a woman of 35 and the children are bright and prepossessing. The mother registered at the hotel as "Mrs. Adams, Boston," and talked freely regarding the recovery of her children.

KILLED BY DOGS

Buck Deer Devoured by Canines

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 19.—The extermination of the deer in the towns of Peterboro, Lyndeboro, Rindge, Williamstown and Dublin, and through the mountain section of southern New Hampshire by packs of hounds, is being investigated by Fish and Game Commissioners Nathaniel Wentworth and Charles E. Clarke.

Mr. Wentworth returned yesterday from the prosecution of several cases in Rindge, and brings with him a story which is considered alarming by lovers of the sport of deer hunting.

It was noticeable that during the last deer hunting season there were practically no deer killed in the towns mentioned, while in Nashua and the thickly settled part of Hillsboro county the score was about the same as in previous years.

Investigation of these conditions showed that packs of dogs without collars had been turned out by their masters and were organized like wolves in chasing deer. Many deer have been killed in this way and those that survive are in the most remote sections.

The commissioners found that in one case a pack of six dogs was following this practice, and had recently run down a buck and killed and devoured him. R. F. Jones of Rindge succeeded in rounding up four of the dogs and informed the commissioners.

It was found that Joseph Silva was the owner of three of the dogs and W. R. Souther of the other. Both men, who are residents of New Ipswich, were taken before Judge Thrasher of Rindge. As a result of the hearing the dogs were killed.

THE UNIONISTS

Expect to Win the Upper Hand

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Unionist morning papers in their editorials indicate that the party has recovered from the slight disappointment which followed Monday's polling, and now has full confidence in its ability to so reduce the government's majority as to place the ministers in the power of the nationalists and laborites.

The unionists rely upon the contests in the counties, which will begin today, to give them further considerable gains. Today's list includes several county seats which were gained by the liberals in 1906 by the narrowest of majorities and these are fully expected to fall into the unionist net.

The Daily Telegraph says: "The unionists may rest absolutely certain that the fight is justifying itself every day. The situation is so working out that if they keep cool heads and confident hearts the future will be their own."

The liberal organs express some disappointment, but still are confident that the government will secure a good working majority.

CHRISTY CASE

THE DEFENSE IS STILL PRESENTING TESTIMONY

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—Contrary to expectations, the defense failed to rest its case yesterday afternoon in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted here by Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy for possession of her daughter Natalie. The entire day was taken up by the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christy, the father and mother, and Miss Rose Christy, his sister.

Miss Christy said that for the past year she has acted as the real guardian of little Natalie.

The testimony of the father and mother recited alleged scenes that were enacted at their home in which Mrs. Christy, the mother, was shown up in an unenviable light. Both testified to the alleged heavy drinking and misconduct of their daughter-in-law.

Christy's mother testified that she did not believe the stories of his alleged debauchery until he, himself, acknowledged to her that he had left New York because his temptations had almost proved his ruin. When asked whether she thought Christian Science had brought about her son's reformation, she said simply, "God has answered his mother's prayers."

Miss Rose Christy testified that during a quarrel between the artist and his wife at the Christy home last summer the wife threatened to kill both Howard and Natalie before she would give up her baby.

SEC'Y BALLINGER

SAYS HE WILL NOT RESIGN UNDER FIRE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary Ballinger made plain last night that he does not intend to resign under fire. When told of a report that he was to leave the cabinet and be succeeded by a man from Oklahoma, the secretary showed some heat.

THE ALDERMEN

Vote for Bowers for City Civil Engineer

For city civil engineer George Bowers, the present incumbent, is solid in the board of aldermen. The board met last night and proceeded, again, to the election of a city civil engineer. George Bowers was elected on the part of the board of aldermen. The common council at its last meeting elected Frederick W. Faruham. They do say that the common council will take different action at its next meeting.

The board did not confirm the appointment of William H. Mahan as inspector of wires, and voted to postpone action on the appointment of Dr. Pierre Brunelle, Jr., for the board of health.

An ordinance having to do with the position of assistant superintendent of state aid was referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation. The appointment of Orville W. Peabody as poundkeeper was confirmed.

Davis & Sargent Lumber company and others petitioned that block paving be laid in Middlesex street from the depot to the Franklin school, and the petition was referred to the committee on streets.

Referred to the committee on positions of weighers of coal and hay, constables, surveyors and fence viewers were confirmed.

The appointment of Wm. H. Mahan as inspector of wires was rejected on a strictly party vote, Aldermen Connors, Curran and Brennan voting for confirmation.

On motion of Alderman Adams the appointment of Dr. Pierre Brunelle, Jr., as a member of the board of health, to succeed Dr. Leonard Huntress, was tabled until the next meeting.

An ordinance amending an ordinance relating to the appointment of a superintendent and assistant superintendent of state aid was read. It provided that the superintendent of state aid be named by the mayor and that they be subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council; also that the assistant have the same power vested in the superintendent, provided the latter is absent, or incapacitated.

It was voted to refer the matter to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

On motion of Alderman Byam the board ordered to the election of a city civil engineer.

Stephen Kearney received the support of Aldermen Brennan and Connors, while the other members voted for George Bowers. The latter was declared elected in non concurrence with the common council.

A joint order, introduced by Alderman Adams providing for the payment of street watering assessments from the general tax levy was read and put over for a hearing in joint convention provided the common council takes concurrent action.

Two Steamers and Schooner Damaged

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Two steamers and a three masted schooner were damaged by a collision between the steamers in the harbor opposite Castle Island just after dark last night, the steamers finally landing on the flats beside the channel.

The two steamers were the Melrose, inward-bound from Newport News, laden with coal, and the Vera of Christiania, Norway, outward bound for Norfolk. The two collided, the Vera driving a deep dent into a plate under the port quarter of the Melrose and forcing her on the East Boston flats.

The Vera then drifted under the bow of the schooner Malcolm Baxter, Jr., inward-bound from Manassquan, N. J., carrying away her head gear and breaking off the foremast of the Vera. The Vera then grounded on the South Boston flats.

No one was injured and the two steamers will be floated in the morning. It is expected.

WORCESTER, Jan. 19.—After carrying the body of her 4-months-old baby girl in a dress suit case from Gloucester through Boston to Worcester, Miss Mary Ostrom, a laundress in the state colony at Medfield, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of concealing the infant's death. A more serious complaint was wiped out by an autopsy on the body by Medical Examiner Baker, who found death was caused by double pneumonia and sepsis.

Miss Ostrom has been rooming at 82 Hanover street, Worcester, since the birth of the baby and last Saturday she left the house with the child without saying where she was going. She returned yesterday with a dress suit case and the suspicion of the neighbors was aroused. They reported the case to the police and Inspector Carey was detailed to investigate.

AT SACRED HEART

Holy Name Society Held Election of Officers

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church held its regular monthly meeting in the school hall last evening. Despite the inclement weather a large number was present. Considerable routine business was transacted and the annual election of officers was held.

President James Ward called the meeting to order. The religious office of the society was read by Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., spiritual director.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: for president,

JAMES J. WARD

James Ward, re-elected; vice president, James Keefe; financial secretary, Jas. H. Cowell, re-elected; recording secretary, James P. Kerwin, re-elected; spiritual director, Rev. Fr. Tighe.

After the election the president informed the members that on next Tuesday evening a smoke talk will be held in the hall. The newly elected officers will be installed at that meeting. Rev. Fr. Tighe said that he would communicate with Rev. Fr. Connell, O. M. I., who delivered the sermon at last Sunday evening's service, and endeavor to have him address the members next Tuesday evening.

The president appointed a committee to have charge of the entertainment, and an excellent program is anticipated. A petition was read to the members, which is to be presented to the legislature for the purpose of making Columbus day, Oct. 12, a holiday. The petition received the unanimous endorsement of the society. After remarks were heard from the newly elected officers the meeting adjourned.

The re-election of Messrs. Ward, Cowell and Kerwin as president, financial and recording secretary, respectively, shows their popularity with the members. Mr. Ward enters upon his third term as president and his zealous work for the society is highly appreciated.

HE MAY RECOVER

Mother Gave Blood to Save Lad's Life

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Lifelong blood from his mother's veins so invigorated six year old Arthur Shibley that today his surgical attendants said they had every confidence that the lad shot by a maniac on Washington Heights last week would recover.

The operation of transfusion took place in the early hours. Mrs. Shibley, screaming anaesthetics, bore the pain without a flinch as the surgeons opened a vein in her arm. In a moment the blood from the mother's healthy system was flowing into the enfeebled lad's body.

The change in the boy's appearance during the twenty minutes the transfusion was completed. A healthy glow came to his skin and his pale lips became ruddy. When the tube was removed the surgeons announced that the operation had been a success. Mrs. Shibley was so weak from the loss of blood that she could scarcely speak, but she smiled cheerfully as she was told her boy was much benefited by her sacrifice. Today on a cot in a surgical ward in the hospital she was recuperating from the effects of the exhausting process.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

A program meeting was held in the afternoon. Miss Mary Shattuck in charge, the subject being "Missions in Lowell." Papers were given by Miss Leslie Allen and Mrs. McAllister. The work of the district nurse was described by Mrs. Haven Hill. The closing address was made by Rev. James E. Green.

THE OPPOSITION

To Mrs. Stetson Won by Good Vote

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Augusta Stetson's friends have lost their fight to keep control of the First church of Christ, scientist, board of trustees. The result of the prolonged session of the congregation last night followed by balloting in the early morning hours was learned today when it was announced that the candidates of the party opposed to the former first reader had been elected by the decisive vote of 733 to 466.

The seven new trustees elected are expected to give the present first reader of the church, Virginia O. Strickler, that number of votes as against five mustered by Mrs. Stetson's friends. The anti-Stetson ticket bore the legend "Loyalty to the mother church; denounceable government; retention in office" and the policy of the trustees elected on it will, it is declared, be framed in cordial sympathy with the wishes of the leaders in Boston.

There are hints that the validity of the election will be tested in the courts by Mrs. Stetson's supporters, the basis being that challenges of voters were overruled by the chairman of the meeting; but no authoritative statement on this point could be secured today.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HOME OF DR. AND MRS. LAMBERT

The members of the John Elliot Literary club, to the number of 35, met at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. John Lambert of Waltham street. Mrs. Adeline H. Forrest entertained the party, and Mrs. Harry J. Corwin prepared the program.

There were numerous papers, readings and other features, all having to do with the subject of the evening, "The Folklore of Turkey." After an introductory speech by Mrs. Corwin, Mrs. Frank Badger gave a delightful reading of a Greek New Year's song. This was followed by a paper by Mrs. C. O. S. Wheeler, "An Outline History of the Asiatic Period of Turkish Poetry." The paper was carefully prepared and most interesting throughout. Following this, Mrs. Corwin gave two readings, the first, Soliman's "Nativity," and the second a Turkish love song, called "The Cuckoo and the Turtle Dove."

Jesse H. Shepard gave a paper on "The Later or European Period of Turkish Poetry," which proved highly interesting to his hearers. There was also a reading by Miss Annie Saunders, one of the fables of Schinas, called "The Ass and the Fox," and Miss Antoinette Dodge gave "The Legend of St. George." The program proper closed with a reading of an Armenian part-song by Mrs. Corwin.

A feature of the entertainment was music furnished by an Armenian on a hurdy-gurdy. At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served in the dining room. Mrs. Marshall Forrest and Miss Helen Lambert poured. Both the menu and the decorations were in keeping with the subject previously discussed by the club. Everything was of a Turkish atmosphere, from the red candies and their red shades, embellished with the silver star and crescent of the near east, and the red carnations everywhere in profusion, to the vlands. There was "pilaffi," a savory and highly spiced dish, which consisted in part of rice, tomatoes and chicken, and there was a sweet Turkish paste known as "packleva." Turkish nuts and candy were also included.

In the absence of the president, Geo. Nelson, the vice president, Mrs. Chas. S. Proctor, presided throughout the evening.

POLICE AT WORK

To Connect Ernest W. Lorentz With Murder of Woman

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 19.—Because of the similarity between the murder of Laura E. Register and the many depredations to which he has confessed the police department was at work today in an effort to discover if Ernest W. Lorentz, brought before the court today as a murderer and highwayman, had any connection with the death of the Cranston girl.

Miss Register was returning to her home along Reservoir avenue on the evening of May 10, 1909, after trying on her wedding gown at a dressmaker's. Her cut and bruised body was found the next morning behind the Jewish cemetery. No one has been charged with the crime. It was the opinion of several of the police officials at the time that the assault was the motive of the holdup.

The case of murder and three cases of highway robbery brought against Lorentz today also have assault as the underlying motive according to the police. It was learned today that Lorentz is engaged to be married to a well known Providence young woman and that the wedding day had been set for some time in March. The ceremony was to have taken place in the home of his oldest sister during her silver wedding anniversary at Mabelthorpe, Germany. Lorentz told the police of the central precinct today that he came to this country in 1903 and had lived in New York, Philadelphia and New Bedford. Passports were searched this morning and conclusive evidence against the man was found. Identification of the various articles were positive.

SENATOR ALLDS

Denies the Charges Made by Senator Conger

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Entering a general denial of the accusation of Senator Conger of Tompkins county that while republican leader of the assembly he received money for aiding in the defeat of legislation before the body, Senator Jotham P. Allds, president pro tem of the senate, today asked for legislative investigation to ascertain the facts in the matter.

Rising to a question of personal privilege at the opening session Senator Allds said: "I hold in my hand a copy of the New York Evening Post dated Jan. 18, 1910. Spread through several columns is a personal attack upon my integrity and the integrity of my career. But the gist of the whole thing is to be found in the direct charge made by Senator Conger that with his certain knowledge while he was serving in the assembly I received money to influence my official action to secure for himself, and his friends my influence in defeating certain legislation in which he was interested.

Let me say to this senate and through the representatives of the press here assembled that that charge is false and the statement is a lie."

Sensor Allds said he demanded a full investigation and "with the utmost speed." When Senator Allds had concluded, Senator Conger arose and was recognized. "I, too, am in favor of an immediate investigation of this entire matter. I shall be glad to appear before a properly appointed committee of this senate to substantiate any authentic statements made by me."

PHILLIPS BROOKS

Memorial to Late Bishop Will be Unveiled Saturday

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—The memorial to Bishop Phillips Brooks, one of the few posthumous works of Augustus St. Gaudens, will be unveiled next Saturday afternoon on the little triangular plot of land on the north side of Trinity church in Copley square.

For more than ten years America's great sculptor worked out the idea, which he first laid before the citizens' committee in 1896, and it was fortunate that his conception had taken concrete form and had received the approval of the committee before death ended his brilliant career.

The unveiling will take place at half-past three o'clock on Saturday, and will be preceded by a simple service in Trinity church. Major Henry L. Higginson of the citizens' committee will make the presentation address in the church, and Reverend Dr. Alexander Mann, the rector, will formally accept it on behalf of the corporation. The care and custody of the memorial has already passed to that corporation under a deed of trust, which has been approved by the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts, and signed and delivered last spring between the two parties.

There are a few sittings reserved for specially invited guests, but the main body of the church will be open to the public at large, who will enter only by the Copley square main entrance.

At the close of the service, an opportunity will be afforded by the attendants in the church, to pass out through the main entrance to Copley square and along the sidewalk, where a view may be obtained of the unveiled memorial.

It is proper to note that the St. Gaudens statue has taken out a copyright for photographing the memorial, and this warning is presented to prevent anyone from photographing the memorial without authority under this copyright.

The ceremony, which precedes the unveiling, will begin punctually at half-past two, the main entrance being opened at two o'clock. No one will be admitted after the ceremony has begun.

The citizens' committee, which has worked assiduously and with perfect confidence in the ability of Mr. St. Gaudens, is composed of Col. Charles R. Codman, Robert Treat Paine, Major Henry L. Higginson, Alexander Cochran, Francis Bartlett and Dr. Arthur T. Cabot. Their report to the subscribers to the memorial is as follows:

The committee that was appointed as a general meeting of the subscribers to a memorial to Phillips Brooks held March 6, 1893, was charged with the duty and was given full power to employ an artist and architect, to obtain designs, determine the site, and carry on the work within the limit of the sum subscribed. This committee, having now substantially finished its work, desires to report its doings to the subscribers and the public.

It met three days after its appointment and voted to invite Augustus St. Gaudens to be the sculptor. No other name had been considered at the meeting of the subscribers, and it was unanimous sentiment that the services of St. Gaudens should be secured, if possible. Mr. St. Gaudens cordially accepted the honor and the trust of undertaking the work. He gave much thought to it, and, for a period of upwards of three years after his appointment

IMPORTANT BILLS

Of Interest to Lowell Now Before the Legislature

Quite a number of bills of interest to Lowell are assigned or are soon to be assigned dates for hearings at the state house and the city solicitor is endeavoring to keep close tabs on them. Copies of the bills are sent him in advance, and from his office they are sent to whatever department they may concern. Copies of the following bills have been received by the city solicitor:

House bill No. 130.—An act relative to the suppression of the elm-leaf beetle. All laws relative to the suppression of the brown-tail and gypsy moths shall also apply to the suppression of the elm-leaf beetle.

Powers and Duties of City Councils

House bill No. 24.—An act relative to the powers and duties of city councils.

Section 1.—The city council of any city in this commonwealth may, and upon petition of voters of the city amounting in number to ten per centum of the votes cast at the preceding election shall submit to the voters of the city at the next city election, or at a special election duly called for the purpose, any question which might lawfully come before such city council. And the vote of the citizens so taken shall be binding upon the city and upon the city council. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Forging of Birth Certificates

An act relative to the forging of birth certificates imposes a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment for not less than three months nor more one year.

This has reference to anyone who forges, or procures to be forged, or assists in forging a certificate of birth of a minor for the purpose of fraudulently obtaining a school certificate. This is part of section sixty-one of chapter 514 of the year 1909, and it reads that whoever employs a minor under the age of 16 years, and who ever procures or, having under his control a minor under such age, permits such minor to be employed in violation of the provisions of sections fifty-six and fifty-seven of this act, shall for each offence be punished by a fine of not more than $200, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Removal of Snow and Ice

An act relative to the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks in cities.

Section 1.—It shall be lawful for any city to remove snow and ice from any sidewalk thereon, provided that the same are not removed by the owner or occupant of the premises within a time to be specified by the city, and include the cost of such removal in the annual tax assessed upon the owner or occupant of the premises.

Section 2.—This act shall not take effect in any city until accepted by the city council thereof.

REVOLUTION HAS BROKEN OUT

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 10.—A revolution is said to have broken out in the republic of Uruguay against the government of President Claudio Willma. It has been impossible thus far to confirm the report, as a rigorous censorship has been established at Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital.

ment he was considering and studying the task he had undertaken.

He made many designs, and often changed his plans. During this time he expressed his wish that the firm of McKim, Meade & White should be the architects of the work, to which the committee agreed.

At a certain period in his investigation he came to the conclusion, after much study, that the memorial should take the form of a group, rather than of a single figure, but it was not until May, 1896, that he came to Boston and met the committee with a distinct and carefully thought out plan, which was approved by the committee. At the same time he expressed the wish that the monument should be erected upon the land of the Trinity church, on the north side of the church. In June, 1896, a contract for the work was made between the committee and the sculptor, but it was not until the 23rd of March, 1907, when the committee went to Cornwall by appointment, that the final form of the monument was shown to the committee. Upon the arrival of the members of the committee at Cornwall, they found that Mr. St. Gaudens was ill and unable to see them, but they were shown the group in clay by Mrs. St. Gaudens, the figures being about four feet in height. It is that model, with which the committee was then, and has ever since been, entirely satisfied, which enlarging to heroic size and in bronze, is soon to be unveiled.

Mr. St. Gaudens never recovered from his illness, and he died, Aug. 3, 1907. The fact of his death abrogated all contracts made between the sculptor and the committee; and the committee, if it thought to do so, was free to employ another sculptor. The committee, however, was convinced after many inquiries of experts in sculpture, that the enlarging of the group was merely a mechanical process, and that, when enlarged, it would still be the conception and design of the sculptor; and the committee therefore arranged with Mrs. St. Gaudens, as her husband's executrix, for the enlarging of the group.

The committee attempts no description of the group. It takes no responsibility, except that of having wholly trusted a sculptor who in his art had no contemporary superior.

As it was the wish of the committee that the memorial should stand upon the site desired by the sculptor, it was necessary to reach an agreement with the proprietors of Trinity church. Such an agreement was easily arrived at, and it was agreed that the monument should stand upon the land of Trinity church, and that it should become the property of that church, which, on its part, should undertake to keep it in repair. As soon as the monument is completed the committee will transfer it to Trinity church, together with the balance of the funds in its hands; from which the church will undertake to keep the memorial in perfect condition, and will use the funds for the purpose only of replacing it in case of its destruction by fire or otherwise, or to remove it to another lot if the present building of Trinity church is ever removed; and with the further condition that, if the accumulations of the fund should ever make such a course desirable, some part of it may be used by Trinity church for the benefit of public or private charities, not ecclesiastical in character.

The agreement between the committee and the church is described in a deed of trust which has been duly executed by both parties, and has been approved by the supreme judicial court.

Charles R. Codman, Robert Treat Paine, Major Henry L. Higginson, Alexander Cochran, Francis Bartlett, Arthur T. Cabot, Committee.

CIVIL SESSION

Suit of Boston Man Was Heard

The case of Elias H. Maleof of Boston against A. Kall Haddad of this city, an action of contract, was heard before Judge Hadley in the civil session of the police court this afternoon. The plaintiff in his declaration alleges that the defendant owes him $30.38 with interest for bills of goods sold him. The entire bill amounted to $125.38, but credit is given for checks to the amount of $95. D. J. Donahue appeared for the defendant while the plaintiff's case was conducted by Frank H. Noyes of Boston.

Curtin and Coupe, qualified at the city clerk's office this afternoon, and Messrs. Howe and Ricard qualified this afternoon. The board, it is stated, will not proceed to the election of a superintendent this evening.

FRAUD ALLEGED

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—More trouble in the custom service in New York came to light last night. Everybody around the federal building is reticent, but the disclosures may have a system which will rank with the sugar cases. Undervaluing automobiles is the new game.

Joseph P. McGrath, a young customs clerk, is specifically charged with having defrauded the government out of $450 by deducting $1000 from the value of a car which arrived in New York on Nov. 26 last. The machine according to the appraiser's certificate, was valued at $1350. But McGrath, it is alleged, altered this to read $850. The duty on automobiles is 45 per cent. ad valorem.

McGrath was quietly arraigned before a United States commissioner last night and held in $1000 bail for examination on Tuesday next. In default of the amount of surety he was committed to the Tombs.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Walton declined to say what evidence the government had discovered, further than to say that it was "an important matter," and that there would be "sensational developments." He intimated that others would be implicated.

It has not been brought out as yet for whom the alleged undervaluing was done. The car in question was consigned to Alexander Hollander & Co.

Charles W. Bunn, an assistant appraiser, is credited with having noticed the alteration in the record. If this new phase of customs scandals becomes as important as predicted, Bunn will claim a reward, as has Richard Parr, the discoverer of the sugar frauds.

CAN'T STOP MOORE

North Chelmsford Manufacturer Opens New Plant

On Anniversary of Fire That Destroyed His Old Mill—Politics Booming in North Chelmsford

One year ago today one of the biggest conflagrations in the history of North Chelmsford destroyed the great wool scouring plant of George C. Moore.

Today George C. Moore began work

cards, two pickers, 13 Noble combs and eight Gill frames. Only a man with indomitable courage and perseverance could recover as quickly as has Mr. Moore and the future of his business looks more rosy than ever. The fire had hardly been extinguished when Mr. Moore set a crew of men to work among the debris, removing the machinery that had not been totally destroyed. This was quickly put into shape and work was kept going in the old Baldwin mill, while architects were drawing plans for the construction of a new, modern and enlarged plant. In the short space of one year Mr. Moore's plant is again doing business full blast as though no misfortune had ever laid it low. Edgar B. Dixon, the wool expert who has had charge of the wool scouring in the old Baldwin mill and who has been a factor in Mr. Moore's business success, has been appointed superintendent of wool scouring and will have entire charge of the work in both mills.

On the first Monday of March the caucuses will be held in Chelmsford and already politics are booming in North Chelmsford. The great contest is on for selection between David F. Small, the present efficient member of the board from the North village, who is seeking a third term; Frank Malorey, the well known quarryman who has run close on several occasions but who has never held the office, and a mysterious unknown who is said to be backed by School Committees George F. White. Just who the third man is none seems to know, but Mr. White says he'll be strong at the polls. The fact that Mr. White will not be a candidate for re-election to the school board leads some to believe that he has no hope of the third candidacy himself. The school board contest from North Chelmsford will be between Ex-Rep. William J. Quigley, who is a foreman at the Chelmsford Iron Foundry and who is in every way qualified for the position, and Edward R. Durant, a book keeper in the Middlesex mills in Lowell.

JOHN R. WALSH TWO BIG SUITS

Will Reach Leavenworth This Afternoon

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—John R. Walsh, the former Chicago financier, on his way to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. to serve his sentence of five years for misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National bank, arrived in Kansas City this morning. As the party of officials and relatives that accompanied Mr. Walsh was alighting from the train a newspaper photographer who had raised his camera to take a snapshot of the travelers was attacked by John W. Walsh, son of the prisoner.

Swinging his suit case with tremendous force young Walsh literally mowed down the newspaper man, driving him and his camera against the side of a Pullman sleeper.

The photographer fell in a heap while the camera fell beneath the car a half dozen feet away. The party remained in the waiting room while a train was being made up by the Missouri Pacific to complete the remainder of the trip to the penitentiary. The departure for Leavenworth was made twenty minutes later.

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 19.—Attachments for $100,000 against Horace Moses of this city and $50,000 against the Mittleague Paper Co. have been filed by Thomas B. Reynolds of Montclair, N. J., in a suit for damages arising out of the sale of stock of Horcade Crews & Co., paper dealers of Havana. Moses is president of the Mittleague Paper Co. The litigation grows out of a contest over the control of the Havana concern.

BIG MILL STRIKE

About 1200 Operatives Quit Work at Webster

late cotton mills, North Webster, at 2 WEBSTER, Jan. 19.—As a result of the 66 hour law that went into effect Jan. 1 in factories in this state, 1200 employees walked out of the Slater mill yesterday afternoon. It is said the strike, which is the biggest Webster has seen for 20 years, originated in the spinning rooms. It means a loss in wages to Webster and Dudley of approximately $8000 a week.

By a prearranged signal 2200 looms stopped simultaneously yesterday afternoon. The strikers' demand is 68 hours salary for 56 hours of labor. Even the employed women and children, who went with the ring leaders, cheered as they left the mill property. It is said, on good authority, that the three trustees of the vast Slater interests which control three large mills here, and a $1,500,000 business building in Worcester known as the Slater block, are soon to make way for other management of the estate. The trustees are the Hon. Charles Washburn, Attorney George Smith of Worcester and Capt. Amos Bartlett of Webster. The three Slater mills and adjoining property pay nearly half of the town's taxation.

Mrs. Mabel Hunt Slater, who resides in the Back Bay, Boston, was not to be seen at her local residence last night. It is thought that she does not care to bother with labor troubles, and as she is quoted: "My children are enough for me to look after and I leave my business to my paid agents."

The following clever adaptation by an eyewitness:

The Charge of the Bargain Brigade

Half a block, half a block,
Half a block onward,
Packed into trolley cars,
Rode the Six Hundred.

Maidens and matrons hale,
Spinners tall, slim, and pale,
On! to the bargain sale
Rode the Six Hundred.

Autos to right of them,
Hansom to left of them,
Flying machines over them,
Rattled and thundered.

Forward through all the roar,
On through the crowd they bore
To New York Clook and Suit Store
Rode the Six Hundred.

Where, at the mart of trade,
Stern-faced and unafraid,
Oh, the wild charge they made!
All the clerks wondered.

Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to sell and pacify,
All the Six Hundred.

On Bargains still intent Homeward the buyers went:
With cash and patience spent,
And friendship sundered.

What though their hats sport dents—
We thought of gloves and shawls and tents,
They have saved dollars and cents;
Noble Six Hundred!

SIMON B. HARRIS

IN POLICE COURT

Was Not Confirmed for Chief of Police Last Night

SALEM, Jan. 19.—Simon B. Harris, formerly chief of police at Malden, and more recently head of the police and license commission at Lowell, was refused confirmation by the board of aldermen as city marshal of this city last night.

Mayor Arthur Howard, who attended the meeting of the aldermen, announced the appointment of Harris, and asked that he be confirmed. Following a discussion the members refused to act upon the mayor's suggestion.

Mayor Howard then announced that another meeting of the board would be held on Thursday evening, and at that time the appointment would again be sent in for their consideration. The feeling prevails here that Harris will get sufficient votes at that time to place him in the position.

The licensing board voted last night to give a hearing to the proprietors of the Colonial House, complained of by Mayor Howard for maintaining an alleged liquor nuisance, and witnesses will be heard on this matter Thursday night.

Mayor Howard has announced that the "Salem" is going to be held down tight in Salem this year and is confident that Harris will make an excellent city marshal.

Colonel John W. Hart, who for 25 years held the position, also feels that Harris is the right man for the place, and said last night that no better selection could be made.

Simon B. Harris is 55 years old and was born in Lawrence. He served upon the police force of that city for a short time and then removed to Lowell, where he became a prominent citizen. He was promoted to inspector. After leaving the department he was some years agent of the State Board of Pharmacy and gave up this position to enter the real estate business.

On Jan. 3, 1908, he was selected as chief of police at Malden and resigned in April, 1907. When Mayor Brown of Lowell ousted the police and license commission of that city, last July, Harris was selected as chairman of the new board, resigning the place in August, giving as a reason that he could no longer serve under the mayor and preserve his self-respect.

James O'Sullivan, Sr., and Jeremiah J. Esq., his son, returned yesterday after a sojourn of a few weeks which was spent in Hotel Chamberlain, Old Point Comfort, Va. The sea voyage of the journeyers was uneventful and the storm on the coast reported by the becoming vessels, passed before the Messrs. O'Sullivan started their homeward journey.

Boisterous Party Taken From Gorham Street

Patrolman John W. Swanwick interrupted the festivities at a beefsteak in Daly's block at the corner of Gorham and Cedar streets at midnight last night, and with the assistance of Patrolman John J. Donovan and Wagon Officer Patrick Frawley bundled the boisterous guests into the patrol wagon which took them to the police station, where they were booked for drunkenness.

As Patrolman Swanwick was passing through Gorham street his attention was attracted to the block by the sound of loud talk and shouting. Inasmuch as the bells were tolling the midnight hour he felt that it was high time that every one should be abed and entering the building made his way to a tenement occupied by John Brown and his wife Carrie.

The members of the party were Brown and his wife and Patrick McLean and Patrick Kane.

In police court this morning the quartet was charged with being drunk and each entered a plea of not guilty. Patrolman Swanwick testified to going to the tenement in Daly's block at midnight and finding the four people in an intoxicated condition went out for assistance. He met Wagon Officer Frawley, who was on his way to his home, at the corner of Gorham and Walnut streets, and told him to look around for Patrolman Linnane. Officer Frawley said he would help in gathering in the crowd and as the two started for the block they met Patrolman John J. Donovan.

The three officers testified that all four were drunk.

The men were fined $2 each, while the woman was fined $6.

Settled Out of Court

The case of Patrick McDonogh, charged with assault and battery on Andrew J. Lynch on Jun. 6, which was to have been heard today, was adjourned and the matter was placed on file.

Other Offenders

There were four first offenders who were fined $2 each.

A DOZEN FAMILIES CURED OF ITCH BY CUTICURA

Showed No Marks but Whole Body
Itched Like a Million Mosquito Bites—Sleep Out of the Question and Life Became an Inferno.

DOCTORS AND DRUGGIST TREATED THEM IN VAIN

"The Cuticura Remedies are the best in the world, as I know from experience. In Downstate, South Wales, about fifteen years ago, families were stricken wholesale by a disease known as the itch. Believe me, it is the most terrible disease of its kind that I know of, as it itches all through your body and makes your life an inferno. Sleep is out of the question and you feel as if a million mosquitoes were attacking you at the same time. Yet you could see nothing on the skin. But the itch was there all right and I sincerely trust that I shall never get it. I know a dozen families that were so affected. The male members and myself belonged to the same society and, as steward, it was my duty to visit the sick members once a week for sick benefit until they were declared off. That is how I became so familiar with the itch."

"The doctors did their best but their remedies were of no avail whatever. Then the families tried a druggist who was noted far and wide for his remarkable cures. People came to him from all parts of the country for treatment, but his medicine made matters still worse, as a last resort they were advised by a friend to use the Cuticura Remedies. I am glad to tell you that after a few days' treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, the effect was wonderful and the result was a perfect cure!"

"I may add that my three brothers, three sisters, myself and all our families have been users of the Cuticura Remedies for fifteen or twenty years. Thomas Hugh, 1650 West Huron St., Chicago, Ill., June 28, 1909."

Complete External and Internal Treatments for Every Form of Itch, including the most obstinate cases of Cutaneous Eruptions, is given in the Cuticura Remedies (50c) for the cure of the Itch, the Cutaneous Eruptions, the most terrible disease of its kind that I know of, as it itches all through your body and makes your life an inferno. # HOBART WILL CASE

Testimony Given at the Hearing Yesterday Afternoon

The afternoon testimony in the Hobart will case at the court house on Gorham street yesterday afternoon is given below:

The hearing in the Hobart will case was resumed at 2 o'clock with Mr. Corey still on the witness stand. In response to Mr. Hogan's questions, he stated that most of the checks drawn on the bank by Mr. Hobart were made out either by himself or other employees of the bank. Witness said he had seen Mr. Hobart when he had been drinking three or four times.

Mrs. Margaret Handley, the beneficiary under the will, was then called by Mr. Hogan, and she testified that she had lived here practically all her life, is a widow and has a son and daughter, the latter married. She testified that she had known Hobart for about 20 years. He boarded where she was employed as a waitress but did not know him well until about seven years ago. She had been employed at Putnam's restaurant for 15 years and at the Washington Tavern for about four years. "I first became acquainted with Mr. Hobart through my brother. They worked together in the machine shop and he called to see my brother when he was ill. He was very kind to my brother. I continued working as a waitress throughout my married life. My husband died in 1900. Mr. Hobart took some of his meals at Putnam's while I worked there."

Mrs. Handley was then asked several questions relative to her married life and she denied emphatically that she had ever been to ride with Mr. Hobart while her husband was alive, or that she had told Mrs. Welton that she had. "You were a frequent visitor to his room?" asked Lawyer Hogan. "I went there at his request."

"You knew of his receiving the $500?"

"He told me some time after he received it."

Relative to Mr. Hobart's home the witness said: "He was running with an old lady named Elwood and when she was taken down with sore eyes he went for me to take care of the old lady as there was no woman in the house. Afterward Mrs. Elwood sold out to a French family and he lived with them. I visited his room frequently but never stayed after 8 o'clock. Sometimes I took one of the girls with me and she would always stay there as long as I did. I was calling there before he got his money. He'd meet me at the restaurant and there was no secrecy about my visits to his house. I never went there before my husband died. I never brought any drink to the room when I went there. Lately I have gone for liquor for him at his request when he was laid up and couldn't go out himself. That was since last June when he was an over and I took care of him. I never went after any liquor until the few months."

"The first I know about him receiving the $500 was when he gave me about $200 to keep for him in the presence of two officers who counted it out. After he received the $500 I think he did no more work. He wanted to but wasn't able. I only saw him twice under the influence of liquor. He drank as much before he received the money as he did afterward. He always seemed to have his head about him. He gave me the $200 the next day after he got the $500, I believe. He told me that he had paid several bills. He didn't intend to give me the money. He had been flourishing money in a barroom and they were afraid that he would lose it and told Officer Laframme about it. Officer Laframme and another officer came to his room that night while I was there. Hobart handed the money to Officer Laframme and told him to give it to me. I held the $200 for about three weeks and he came to me every day for some of it and I gave it to him. In three weeks I turned the remainder of it over to Mrs. Lindsay, supposed to be his niece. She said she could take care of it and I gave it to her. Mr. Hobart was indignant because I gave his niece the money, saying that she had no right to it."

Nearly Asphyxiated

"Were you in his room when he was nearly asphyxiated by gas?" asked Mr. Hogan.

"I was not. I was first told of it by Mrs. Lindsay. I am not certain whether it was before or after he had received the money."

"Did he have any money after he left the hospital?"

"I don't know."

"He went to Mrs. Lindsay's to live then, didn't he?"

"I don't see how he could. She had just one room for herself and her husband."

"After he received the $1000 he sent for me and I called on him," continued the witness.

"Up to this time he had no money and was depending on Mrs. Lindsay for his board, wasn't he?"

"I don't know. I gave him money at times. I called on him at Mrs. Lindsay's when he was there as she came after me to invite me up to see him. "Did he ever tell you about attempting to take his life?"

"No, sir. I asked him what had happened and he said he didn't know."

Mrs. Handley stated that while Mr. Hobart was sick last June she cashed several checks for him. She borrowed some money from him when her mother died and paid it back the following Saturday.

Mrs. Handley stated that on some of her visits to Mr. Hobart's room she was accompanied by girls named Ella Geary and Minnie McMaisters.

"Didn't you see Mr. Hobart drunk often after he had received the money?" asked Mr. Hogan.

"No, I never lost his head. He drank regularly, but he had a lame step and a person who didn't know him might think that he was intoxicated."

Examined by Mr. Harvey, Mrs. Handley stated that when Mr. Hobart was ill prior to March, 1908, she mended and pressed his clothing, cleaned his room, made his bed, bandaged his sore foot and went on errands for him. When he was working she looked after his clothes and his room. She did this for a year or two, after the death of the old lady who used to look after his room.

"Did you know then that he was heir to an estate?"

"I did not and he did not know himself. The first I knew of it was after he received the money. When he got it he paid most of his back bills. He owed for room rent and money he had borrowed."

"Was he much of a reader?"

"He was. He liked his books and

MRS. REID, WHO INHERITS $30,000,000-- THREE OTHER VERY RICH WOMEN

TWIN SULLIVAN BOWLING NOTES

Was Easily Defeated by Scores Made in Last Night's Games

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Frank Klaus of Pittsburgh hammered Jack (Twin) Sullivan of Boston for 12 rounds at the Armory A. A. last night and easily won the decision. Sullivan was unable to stem the attack of the Pittsburgh boy and made a very poor showing in all but the second and last rounds. Klaus landed right and left swings to the head frequently and then clinched for a terrific body punishment on his opponent.

The preliminaries were also hard fought bouts, Dan Sullivan, brother of the Twins, defeating Vernon Austin, middleweight champion of Canada in eight rounds in which the Canadian put up a game battle.

Frank Madole of Pittsburgh, Klaus' partner, won from "Kid" Shea of Roxbury in eight rounds.

LICENSE BOARD

Hears Charges Against Haverhill Liquor Dealer

HAVERHILL, Jan. 12.—The license board sat in special session last evening to hear evidence to substantiate charges preferred by City Marshal John J. Mack against Bartholomew Cronin & Co., proprietors of a hotel on Washington street, this city, but as Judge John J. Winn, counsel for defendant, sought specifications of the eight charges preferred, the board voted to postpone the hearing until next Monday evening. In the meantime specifications will be filed.

The eight charges allege that Cronin or his agents sold liquor after 11 o'clock at night and before 6 in the morning; that he sold to persons under the influence of liquor; to persons who had been intoxicated within six months; to a minor; that he kept a disorderly, indecent house; had ceased to engage in the business they were licensed for; and that they did not have on their premises either food or implements to provide a meal of victuals for strangers and travelers.

In the charges made by the marshal some of the dates on which the violations are alleged to have taken place are named, but no names are mentioned as to who might be referred to. Judge Winn fought stubbornly for a half hour, but the license board did not give in until City Solicitor George M. G. Nichols recommended that a postponement be ordered to next Monday night and that in the meantime the marshal furnish specifications. Judge Winn sparred for time, for in any event Cronin will not be able to engage in his business after May 1, the city having given no license.

TORN BY WOLVES

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—Baron Otto Von Orban, a rich land owner, while riding through the forest in Transylvania, was pursued by a pack of wolves. The wildly excited horses threw him and the wolves tore him to pieces.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Prepared apparently for a long, hard winter in the tropics, a fossil head of a supposed prehistoric bird surrounded by fossilized coconuts, oranges, mangoes and alligator pears, has been unearthed in Cuba cut, Panama zone. It will be presented by the canal commission to the Smithsonian institution. The head resembles that of a duck.

FUNERALS

MCCOY.—The funeral of the late Joseph P. McCoy took place yesterday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy, 15 Pollard street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased, as well as a delegation from the heavy coast artillery, Seventh company, stationed at Fort Banks, Wintthrop, of which the deceased was a member.

The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church in Gorham street, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. John Burns. The choir was in attendance and rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Miss May M. Whitely sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion of the service "Jesu Salvator Mundi" was rendered by James R. Donnelly. As the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "In Paradisum." Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ.

There was a wealth of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings in evidence showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends. The following were the most prominent:

Large pillow of roses and pinks and galax leaves, inscribed "Brother," from the family; spray of pinks and forget-me-nots tied with pink ribbon with inscription "Uncle" from the McCoy children, niece and nephew of the deceased; large floral piece representing landscape and blanket with inscription "Seventh Co. U. S. A." from the Heavy Artillery, Fort Banks; large standing wreath on base, sympathy of soldiers of the Heavy Artillery of Fort Banks; wreath of roses, pinks and galax leaves, sympathy of the Misses Sparks; large wreath of galax leaves, maiden hair ferns and violets from Mr. John McCoy and family; sprays of pinks tied with pink ribbon, from Mr. James McCoy and family; Miss Theresa Monahan, Mr. Joseph Read and family; Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and Miss Alice Casey; wreath of roses and galax leaves, sympathy of friends of the deceased; wreath of roses and ferns, sympathy of Mr. John Cunningham and family.

The hearse was Messrs. John McCoy, Barney Roach, James Morrison, Luke Miskella, James Burke and Francis P. Duggan.

The interment was in the Catholic cemetery where the members of the coast artillery fired a volley over the grave. The committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Burns. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker John P. Rogers.

CORONER'S JURY

To Consider Freight Train's Evidence

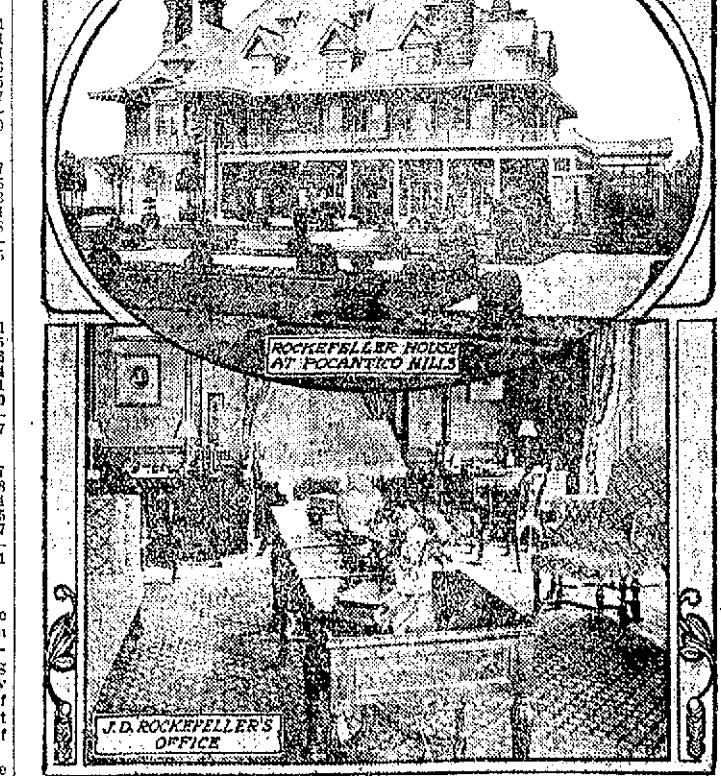

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—A freight train's evidence in a coroner's inquest was in course of preparation today near Croton, N. Y., where Spencer Trask, the banker, was recently killed in a railroad accident. The momentum of a train of 14 heavily loaded freight cars is to be tested in a demonstration conducted tomorrow for the purpose of helping the coroner place responsibility for the accident.

The aggregate weight of the cars will be the same as that of the train which ran into the express which was partly derailed in the Croton wreck, and the ability of the engineer to see the signals and to stop the train within a given distance will be practically demonstrated, according to the announced plans of the coroner.

According to the treasurer's report, the first aviation meeting in America, which closes tomorrow has been an unqualified success. Those whose subscriptions made it possible to bring the noted French and American aviators here will receive every dollar they risked and probably more with good crowds today and tomorrow. Attendance so far has averaged 30,000 a day. Receipts have been estimated at close to $20,000 a day and half that amount for each of the ten days would total sufficient to cover the estimated expense of $100,000 for the meeting.

The Cordonia Field Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, will remain here until Saturday, when the aviation committee has scheduled a sightseeing excursion through the citrus district for aviators and officials.

KIDNAPS GIRLS KILLED BY DOGS

Mrs. Greene Takes Two From Pittsfield Shakers

PITTSFIELD, Jan. 18.—A sensational kidnapping occurred at the West Pittsfield Shaker settlement late Monday afternoon, when Lillith May Robinson, a Boston nurse and the divorced wife of George H. Greene of Springfield, got possession of her two little daughters who had been placed with the Shakers, bundled them into a sleigh and escaped to this city, leaving yesterday for Boston.

Mrs. Robinson, as she calls herself, arrived here Monday and took a room at the American house. She immediately engaged a team of horses and a two-seated sleigh from a local liveryman and drove to the Shaker settlement, three miles west of Pittsfield.

Arriving there she met Eldresses Emoretta and Carolina and asked to see Florence and Gertrude Greene, saying that she was their Aunt Ethie.

Florence, aged 11, and Gertrude, aged 8, were overjoyed when their mother met them, but she cautioned them not to say anything and presently asked if she might take them out for a drive. Being somewhat suspicious the Shakeresses refused, but permitted them to step out "to see the horses."

The children had no outside wraps and as they reached the sleigh, the woman quickly lifted them in, wrapped them in the heavy robes and the driver whipped up the horses.

In an interview after the kidnapping Mrs. Robinson said that she was married to George H. Greene, a traveling salesman, more than 20 years ago and that the children were born to them, of whom the two girls figuring in Monday's sensation are the youngest.

She said that they were happy for many years, but two years ago her husband became unreasonably jealous and trouble ensued which resulted in her seeking a divorce on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment.

Relying on her husband's promise that the children should be well cared for Mrs. Robinson says she waived all claim on them, another reason being that she was without means and had to go to work to support herself.

It was agreed that she should see the children when she desired, but she asserted that her husband did not keep his agreement and the children were placed beyond her reach.

She but recently learned that the girls were brought to Pittsfield by Cora Stann, who lives in the same house with Mr. Greene in Springfield.

Greene, it is said, arranged to pay the Shakers $2 a week for a year, after which time the children were to be given over to the Shakers until they were 21. Mrs. Robinson said that she objected to having her daughters brought up by the Shakers, although admitting that they had been very kind to them.

She said that as she expects soon to marry a Boston physician she determined to get possession of them and bring them up herself.

Mrs. Robinson is a woman of 35 and the children are bright and prepossessing. The mother registered at the hotel as "Mrs. Adams, Boston," and talked freely regarding the recovery of her children.

Buck Deer Devoured by Canines

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 19.—The extermination of the deer in the towns of Peterboro, Lyndeboro, Rindge, Wilton and Dublin, and through the mountain section of southern New Hampshire by packs of hounds, is being investigated by Fish and Game Commissioners Nathaniel Wentworth and Charles B. Clarke.

Mr. Wentworth returned yesterday from the prosecution of several cases in Rindge, and brings with him a story which is considered alarming by lovers of the sport of deer hunting.

It was noticeable that during the last deer hunting season there were practically no deer killed in the towns mentioned, while in Nashua and the thickly settled part of Hillsboro county the score was about the same as in previous years.

Investigation of these conditions showed that packs of dogs without collars had been turned out by their masters and were organized like wolves in chasing deer. Many deer have been killed in this way and those that survive are in the most remote sections.

The commissioners found that in one case a pack of six dogs was following this practice, and had recently run down a buck and killed and devoured him. R. P. Jones of Rindge succeeded in rounding up four of the dogs and informed the commissioners.

It was found that Joseph Silva was the owner of three of the dogs and W. R. Souther of the other. Both men, who are residents of New Ipswich, were taken before Judge Thrasher of Rindge. As a result of the hearing the dogs were killed.

Expect to Win the Upper Hand

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Unionist morning papers in their editorials indicate that the party has recovered from the slight disappointment which followed Monday's polling, and now has full confidence in its ability to reduce the government's majority as to place the ministers in the power of the nationalists and laborites.

The unionists rely upon the contests in the counties, which will begin today, to give them further considerable gains. Today's list includes several county seats which were gained by the liberals in 1906 by the narrowest of majorities and these are fully expected to fall into the unionist net.

The Daily Telegraph says: "The unionists may rest absolutely certain that the fight is justifying itself every day. The situation is so working out that if they keep cool heads and confident hearts the future will be their own."

The liberal organs express some disappointment, but still are confident that the government will secure a good working majority.

CHRISTY CASE

THE DEFENSE IS STILL PRESENTING TESTIMONY

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—Contrary to expectations, the defense failed to rest its case yesterday afternoon in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted here by Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy for possession of her daughter Natalie. The entire day was taken up by the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christy, the artist's father and mother, and Miss Rose Christy, his sister.

Miss Christy said that for the past year and a half she had been the guardian of little Natalie.

The testimony of the father and mother recited alleged scenes that were enacted at their home in which Mrs. Christy and Purdy, the chauffeur, were shown up in an unenviable light. Both testified to the alleged heavy drinking and misconduct of their daughter-in-law.

Christy's mother testified that she did not believe the stories of his alleged debauchery until he himself acknowledged to her that he had left New York for his father's home and had proved his ruin. When asked whether she thought Christian Science had brought about her son's reformation, she said simply, "God has answered his mother's prayers."

Miss Rose Christy testified that during a quarrel between the artist and his wife at the Christy home last summer, the wife threatened to kill both Howard and Natalie before she would give up her baby.

They do say that the common council will take different action at its next meeting.

It provided that the superintendent and the assistant superintendent of state aid be named by the mayor and that they be subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council; also that the assistant have the same power vested in the superintendent, provided the latter is absent, or incapacitated.

It was voted to refer the matter to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

On motion of Alderman Ryan the board proceeded to the election of a city civil engineer.

Stephen Kearney received the support of Aldermen Brennan and Connors, while the other members voted for George Bowers. The latter was declared elected in non concurrence with the common council.

A joint order introduced by Alderman Adams providing for the payment of street watering assessments from the general tax levy was read and put over for a hearing in joint convention provided the common council takes concurrent action.

BOATS COLLIDED

Two Steamers and Schooner Damaged

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Two steamers and a three masted schooner were damaged by a collision between the steamers in the harbor opposite Castle Island just after dark last night, the steamers finally landing on the flats beside the channel.

The two steamers were the Melrose, inward-bound from Newport News, laden with coal, and the Vera of Christiania, Norway, outward bound for Norfolk. The two collided, the Vera driving a deep dent into a plate under the port quarter of the Melrose and forcing her on the East Boston flats.

The Vera then drifted under the bow of the schooner Malcolm Baxter, Jr., inward-bound from Manassquan, N. J., carrying away her head gear and breaking off the foremast of the Vera. The Vera then grounded on the South Boston flats.

THE NEW BOARD OF CHARITY.

Considering the difficulties of getting the most capable men to accept positions on a board that has been made the football of politics, Mayor Meehan has done remarkably well in his appointment of a new Board of Charity.

Owing to the conditions that confronted him it became absolutely necessary to reorganize the board in the interests of harmony and to eliminate all political asperities that might operate to injure the department.

For Chairman of the board, Mayor Meehan could not have found a man better fitted by training and experience to direct the affairs of the department than Dr. J. J. McCarty. Those who know the doctor's business capacity and sterling character will scarcely venture to say that a better man might have been selected for the position. The chief difficulty, we presume, in regard to the doctor will be to induce him to hold the position.

Frank Ricard is a prominent and very popular French-American business man whose character and ability cannot be questioned. Mr. Choquette was one of the best members who ever served on the board and we believe that to fill Mr. Choquette's place no better selection could be made to represent the French-American people of Lowell.

William F. Curtin is a young lawyer whose presence on the board will not only aid in promoting the welfare of the department, but will also aid in steering clear of political snags that sometimes put the board in a bad light. None can question his competency.

Mr. Matthew Coupe has been running a large boarding-house for many years and is well versed in the matter of feeding large numbers. Moreover he is a business man whose views upon various matters of administration will be very valuable. Perhaps it is somewhat to his disadvantage that he is not so widely known as some of the other members, but that will not affect his efficiency as a member of the board.

As for Harry W. J. Howe, during his service on the board, he gave more time to his duties than all the other members combined, thus manifesting a deep interest in the department. He also made many valuable recommendations for improvements, some of which have already been adopted. He was removed from office because of his efforts to bring about certain reforms and Mayor Meehan was fully justified in recognizing his efforts and vindicating his course by a reappointment.

On the whole, therefore, we can commend Mayor Meehan's appointments as in every way greatly superior to the board that has been removed and in any case, we do not believe in the arbitrary condemnation of such a board before it has had time to perform a single official act. Why not be reasonably decent and considerate and wait to see whether the action of the board will justify such criticism?

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF SOME DIVIDENDS.

A short time ago it was announced that several cotton mills in Fall River had declared big dividends, while several mills in our own city had either passed their dividends or reduced them. This very naturally caused some astonishment among the many who assume that one cotton mill should be able to pay dividends when another one does. They take it for granted that when business is good in one mill it must be good in all, but this does not necessarily follow. It would be just as logical to say that when the management is good in one cotton mill it must be good in all.

When one concern in a particular line of manufacture pays a dividend and another does not there is a reason and perhaps several reasons. It often happens that a corporation pays a dividend when it doesn't earn it. The directors may honestly believe that they have earned a dividend when in reality they have lost money. Some directors are unable to see a deficit until the money lender or the sheriff shows it to them. Some know they have lost money, but for one purpose or another they wish to conceal it, and in order to keep up appearances they pay a dividend that should have been passed.

There is a limit to the life of machinery and mill buildings, and unless provisions are made to replace worn-out or obsolete machinery, there will come a time when the directors of such loosely managed concerns will wake up to the fact that they paid too much in dividends to make a public show when they should have laid aside a reasonable sum annually to keep their plant up to the required standard. It is so with the buildings and the entire equipment.

If a plant is good for only ten years, then a sum sufficient to rebuild it every ten years should be set aside as a part of the fixed charges before any dividends are paid. It is only by such a policy that a concern can be run along smoothly without giving any shock to the stock-holders by suspending dividends or calling for assessments. It is only by such a conservative management that the unwarranted increase in the selling price of the stock is prevented, for it is plain to the merest novice that any advance in the price of shares in a corporation based solely on dividends which are not earned is the worst kind of stock jobbing that can be imagined.

We had a good illustration of this evil when some of the cotton mills of the south were started. Their buildings and machinery were all new and up-to-date. They started off in grand style and made money, or thought they did. They paid big dividends on a small capital, and their shares went up in price like the typical financial balloon. But the balloon came down. The management forgot something, and then they learned something. They learned that new machinery costs money, and they learned they could not get back the money they paid out in fool dividends. They either had to borrow money on a mortgaged plant or increase their capital stock. Either plan put an end to fancy dividends or wiped them out, and the result was a rapid decline in the value of shares.

It is, therefore, plain to any thinking person that the passing of a dividend may mean good management while the paying of suddenly inflated dividends may mean just the reverse. The steady conservative policy with an eye to the future is always the best, both for the company and its stock-holders.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, holder of the Murray professorship in English literature at Princeton university, and who is this year delivering the senior course in Nineteenth Century Prose, has received word of his unanimous election as Honorary Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature of the United Kingdom, an honor enjoyed at present by only one other American, Joseph Choate, former United States ambassador to Great Britain. Dr. Van Dyke returned to Princeton this fall after a year's absence on leave, during which he delivered a course of lectures at the Sorbonne, Paris, on "The Spirit of America." The election to the Royal Society of Literature, it is understood, is the result of the recognition by the society of the literary merit of Dr. Van Dyke. Last year the foreign fellows chosen were Anatole France, the famous French writer; Bjornson, the Norwegian novelist; Nansen, the Danish explorer; Harnack, the eminent theologian, and Paul Heyse, the great German author.

Dr. Van Dyke has just completed ten years in the faculty of Princeton university. He is a member of the class of 1873 of the university and of the class of 1872 in the Princeton Theological seminary. From 1883-1900 he was pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York city. Besides being a member of the American academy, he is president of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and has received honorary degrees from Harvard, Yale, Union, Washington and Jefferson, Pennsylvania, Wesleyan and Princeton. He is best known as a writer of both prose and poetry.

William Pailster Hubbard, republican representative in congress from the first West Virginia district, has officially announced his candidacy for the seat of Nathan B. Scott in the United States senate. Senator Scott's term will expire in March, 1911.

Prof. Howard Crosby Butler of the department of art and archaeology, Princeton university, announces that he will undertake another expedition to Asia Minor, archaeological research. He will be accompanied by Charles F. Cook, Princeton, '08, and Charles N. Read, '08, who will act as engineers. This expedition will be the private project of Prof. Butler.

M. R. Preston, who was the socialist candidate for president of the United States in 1908, and who at the time was confined in a Nevada jail under sentence of 30 years for murder, has sent to the state board of prison of Nevada an application for a pardon. Preston was convicted of murder at Goldfield in 1907.

Rev. Edgar S. Brightman, pastor of the Methodist church at Cohasset, Mass., has just been elected to the Jacob Sleeper traveling fellowship, the highest honor attainable in connection with Boston University School of Theology. The fellowship was established in 1889 and provides for the expenses of a year of graduate study in Germany. The successful candidate, who has won the scholarship, includes some of the foremost leaders in the Methodist church in America, especially in the educational field.

Mr. Brightman is the only son of the late Rev. G. E. Brightman, for many years a member of the New England Southern conference of the Methodist church. Though only 25 years old, Mr. Brightman has an unusual record for scholarship preceding this last appointment. He was graduated from the Whitman high school in the class of 1901, taking four years' course in three. At Brown university which he entered in the fall of 1902 he was winner of the Phi Beta Kappa honor as well as of the prize examination in Homer, and was commencement orator of his class at Brown. He is also a member of Beta Alpha chapter of Kappa Sigma.

There are no less than four of these, the wife of his best friend, a frivolous but altogether charming Parisian, a pretty and interesting Parisian music-hall singer and a little mix of a country girl who is a curious combination of sophistication and ingenuousness. The latter has "set her cap" for the gentlemanly adventurer and the extremes to which she goes to win him furnish a series of amusing situations. As a last resort she pretends that she has had "a horrid, wicked love affair" because he has told her that while he respects and esteems innocent young girls, he can never manage to love them.

Miss Marie Boland who is his leading woman last season in "Jack Straw," has the role of the country girl who finally conquers the irresponsible George. Others in the cast include Sal Tarter, 2 ozs. 5c

Though in the active pastorate all the time, Mr. Brightman completed the three years' theological course at Boston university in two years, at the same time winning the premier scholarship honors. At the time of his father's death in March, 1906, Mr. Brightman, at that time only 22 years old, took up his father's pastoral work and carried the heavy duties of it through most successfully to the end of the conference year.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Paul M. Potter's greatest success, "The Girl from Rector's," which ran for an entire season at Weber's Music hall, New York, comes to the Opera House tonight. Mr. Potter was also responsible for "Tilly," "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" and other international successes, but in "The Girl from Rector's" he is declared to have struck the greatest vein of his career. The story of the offering, in brief, is this:

Louise Sedaine is "The Girl from Rector's," a merry, dancing, dashing little slip of humanity. She is in love with Richard O'Shaughnessy, a young chap of ample wealth, who, at the moment of the play has plunged into dissipation as a result of the influence of Col. # THE "COAL TRUST" GERMAN RATES

The Government's Brief in the Case Filed To be Applied to a Number of American Articles

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—The government's brief in its suit to break up the alleged anthracite coal trust was filed in the U. S. circuit court yesterday by William S. Greag, special assistant to the attorney general. The suit was brought in April, 1907, and the government's case was prepared by G. Carroll Todd and J. C. McLevy. The nearly three years since the action was brought has been taken up with the examination of witnesses for both sides.

The principal defendants are the Reading company, Philadelphia & Reading Railway company, Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company, Lehigh Valley Railroad company, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Erie Railroad company, New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, Lehigh Valley Coal company, Pennsylvania Coal company, Hillside Coal and Iron company, New York, Susquehanna & Western Coal company and Temple Iron company.

The government contends that all the defendants have long been parties to a general combination and conspiracy, which stifles competition and obstructs trade and commerce among the states in anthracite coal, and that they have monopolized the trade.

court to restrain and enjoin the alleged monopoly and to further enjoin the defendants from carrying out the contract with the so-called independent companies by which the latter turn over their product to the larger companies for 65 per cent of the sidewater selling price.

The government contends that the stock of the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, owned by the Erie, the stock of the Jersey Central, owned by the Reading company, the stock of the Temple Iron company, owned by several of the defendants, the stock of the Pennsylvania Coal company and Delaware Valley & Kingston Railroad company, owned by the Erie, and the stock of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, was acquired in violation of the anti-trust act, under which the suit was brought and the court is asked to enjoin the defendants from voting this stock or from sharing in the dividends or other profits of these companies.

In support of its contention the government cites the decision in the Northern Securities case and in the case of Swift & Co. vs. the United States.

The defendants have 20 days to file their briefs and argument will be heard before Judge Gray, Burlington and Lansing on Feb. 21.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The government has decided that in the event of an agreement upon a reciprocal tariff between the United States and Germany is not reached by Feb. 7, the running arrangement expiring then, Germany's tariff rates must, under the law, be applied to American imports, at present coming in under the conventional tariff. One hundred and twenty-seven articles will be affected.

It was, however, semi-officially declared today that the tariff negotiations with the United States had not been broken off and it was added that time remained for a settlement of the differences between the two countries.

The imperial consultative commercial board composed of manufacturers, financiers and economists has been summoned to meet on Jan. 24 and consider the trade position taken by the United States. The government wishes to explain to the board its attitude.

Last night's speech of Herr Goldberger, privy councillor, before the American Association of Commerce and Trade in which the speaker indicated that Germany was not disposed to give way to the United States was based, it was learned, on Goldberger's personal inquiries in governmental quarters. The newspapers today note with some concern that Germany was omitted from President Taft's proclamation of yesterday in which the countries to profit by the minimum rates at United States ports were announced.

FOR MILL POWER SWEDISH HERMIT

Vast Water Power That Has Been Utilized by H. P. Binney of Canton

HAVERHILL, Jan. 19.—That mills are to be erected on both sides of the Merrimack river and that a dam of immense proportions will soon be built near Mitchell's Falls, between this city and Lawrence, utilizing water power which for years has gone to waste, was learned today.

The power of the big Lawrence dam is taken up by the large number of mills in its immediate vicinity, and it is understood that the Essex company of Lawrence is buying up the land near Mitchell's Falls.

There is also a movement on foot to construct a canal across the neck of a small peninsula in the river, from a point opposite Ruffin's island, on the Bradford shore, to a point below the lower falls, where there is deep water. This plan was advanced three years ago when land was bought and a right of way obtained by A. W. Cram of this city, who still owns the property.

J. W. Wilbur land company has recently disposed of its holdings in the vicinity to H. P. Binney of Canton.

Found to be at Death's Door

WORCESTER, Jan. 19.—Anders P. Jansson, also known as Andrew P. Johnson, the Swedish hermit who has lived the life of a recluse in the woods at the lower end of Quinsigamond village for several years, subsisting on the charity of his fellow countrymen, was removed from his miserable hovel to the city hospital yesterday by ex-Alderman Wilhelm G. Folsberg and Clerk Freeman Brown of the forests of the poor. From a life of luxury in his native land, where he was considered one of the most accomplished organists and where his ability was shown in many of the leading churches, to a miserable existence in a hovel where he has passed his recent years as an object of charity from adults and a person shunned by the children, tells in brief the story of Johnson.

His sudden change was brought about by the rejection of his love by a girl in his native land. This much he has admitted to a few of those who have befriended him, but he has not yet gone into any of the details of his old life. He was taken ill last Thursday and his condition became such that he had to have medical care, but he rejected all advances of this kind from the residents of Quinsigamond. His case was called to the attention of the overseers of the poor and Clerk Freeman Brown said that he never saw a worse-looking man in all his experience as the executive officer of the poor department dating back almost 20 years.

The officers of the poor department went to the hovel in a hack to take Johnson to the home farm, but his condition was such that they gave up this plan and summoned the police ambulance, in which he was taken to city hospital. Johnson is 78 years of age and his illness is due to old age and neglect.

Blood Poison can never be cured with mercury or potash. You might as well know this first as last. Medical authorities say that the most effective way to do is to drive the blood poison back into the system and smother it for several years. Then when you think you are cured, pitiful mercury symptoms will break out and you find that your bones have been rotting all the while. Your teeth will begin to loosen and your tissues, glands and organs will begin to show the terrible destructive power of the mercury and potash. Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, Imbecility and Tremor are the most common and most terrible of these symptoms. The remarkable vegetable blood treatment does not drive in the

FATHER TOO LATE

To Prevent Marriage of His Daughter

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Miss M. Lindsay Clark of Virginia became Mrs. Reid in spite of the fact that her father, Franklin Clark, chartered a fast train here and pursued her to Washington to prevent her marriage to Archer Reid of Baltimore.

The father caught up with the runaway couple just in time to be present at the wedding dinner their Baltimore friends were giving them at the Hotel Arlington in Washington.

"Bless you, my children," was all Mr. Clark could say when after he found himself beaten by the clergies, neither of whom is yet 20, he joined in drinking their health.

The young couple met last winter. The girl's father is very wealthy and allied with the most prominent families of Virginia. His wife was a noted beauty.

In order to keep the young couple apart Mr. Clark sent his daughter away from Baltimore recently, and she, with her mother, has been stopping in Fushing, L. I. Apparently the lovers found some means of communicating, for Miss Clark slipped out of the house early yesterday and in the late afternoon was married to young Reid at the Trinity Episcopal church in Washington. The Rev. Dr. Williams, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

While he was pronouncing the words that made them man and wife, the bride's father, who had been notified by telegram that Miss Clark had taken matters into her own hands and run off, had chartered a fast train and the tracks were ordered cleared for the speedy passage of the anti-Cupid special.

It didn't take Mr. Clark long after his arrival in Washington to learn that he was just too late. He rushed from the church to the hotel, where the wedding march was being played by an orchestra in the private dining-room the party had engaged.

"You are too late, father," exclaimed

Mrs. Reid as her father burst in. "Please forgive us."

Mr. Clark hesitated a bit and then gave in. He gathered his daughter in his arms and shook hands with the bridegroom while the guests showered their congratulations.

The ceremony was witnessed by Dr. Lewis M. Allen of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tachem, the latter formerly Miss Polly Mason of Virginia, John Elliott and Paul Portner.

Miss Clark was to have been one of this season's debutantes in this city, but had decided to defer her coming out until next year. Her mother was Miss Lulley Poor, a sister of Miss Sally Poor, and her marriage at Mount Calvary church, Baltimore, about 20 years ago, was a notable event in society there.

Causes Debility

HERE ARE FACTS BACKED UP BY A STRONG GUARANTEE

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion most people suffering from general debility have a catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer, because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucuo-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alternative power to correct faulty metabolism (disease change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucuo-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Mucuo-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack street.

BOLD ROBBERY

Scared by Bluff, Afraid of Gun

WALTHAM, Jan. 19.—Two bold hold-up men armed with revolvers lost so much of their courage that they fled from the grocery store of Joseph Dix in the West End last night after their aged proprietor had led them to believe that he meant to do some shooting himself.

Dix, who is 72 years old, was alone in his store on Charles street avenue at 6.30 when two rough looking men entered the place, drew revolvers, which they thrust in his face and shouted "Hands up."

The proprietor complied with the order, and they then informed him that they were after his "roll" and his life would not be worth "a row of pins" if he did not produce.

"Now that you understand," cried one, "down with your hands and get us the stuff. No tricks or it will be worse for you."

Dix let his hands drop to his sides and went behind the counter, then ducked underneath, thundering out that he, too, now held a gun, which announcement caused both men to depart on the run.

The police were notified of the attack and searched through the West End and Roberts for the men, but failed to apprehend them. Mr. Dix stated that neither was over 25 years old, and that they had apparently come from the direction of the railroad.

The groceryman is reputed to be well off, and rumors have prevailed that he was in the habit of keeping large sums about the store, so the police are of the opinion that this planned robbery, but lost their nerve when they thought him armed.

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Senator W. The bill follows the recommendation of the next meeting of Herget's committee on Friday.

"Gleason can conduct that fight here and no one else. If Gleason cares to bring Rickard in here as a partner, all well and good, but Rickard's application would not be considered. The committee of which I am chairman, a majority of the board of supervisors and pretty nearly the whole city administration is anxious that the fight should come to 'Frisco'."

Gleason's application will be considered at the next meeting of Herget's committee on Friday.

Faded Hair Spoils the Beauty of Many Women

Have you seen a pretty face with regular features, clear skin, pearly teeth and plenty of animation and vivacity, and yet remarked that there was something lacking that really made the individual less charming than her sister of plainer possessions? A moment's study of such a face will show you clearly that it is a want of luxuriant hair which makes the difference.

The woman who wishes to retain her youth must look after her hair—the woman with scant, unattractive hair is never admired.

Society women realize the truth of this statement and that is why so many beautiful women demand that Peristan Sage be used by their hair dressers.

Peristan Sage is now sold by druggists in nearly every town of consequence in America, and has enormous sales wherever it has been introduced. It is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It will make any woman's hair soft and unattractive hair soft, lustrous, and luxuriant in a few days. It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating tonic that makes hair grow; it is not sticky or greasy, but on the other hand is most pleasant, refreshing and daintily perfumed, and only 60 cents a large bottle at druggists everywhere and at Carter & Sherburne's, Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by the American makers, druggists, Mfg. # BODY OF A CHILD

Was Found Packed in a Dress Suit Case

WORCESTER, Jan. 19.—After carrying the body of her 4-months-old baby girl in a dress suit case from Gloucester through Boston to Worcester, Miss Mary Ostrom, a laundress in the state colony at Medfield, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of concealing the infant's death. A more serious complaint was filed by an autopsy on the body by Medical Examiner Baker, who found death was caused by double pneumonia and scrofula.

Miss Ostrom has been rooming at 82 Hanover street, Worcester, since the birth of the baby and last Saturday she left the house with the child without saying where she was going. She returned yesterday with a dress suit case and the suspicion of the neighbors was aroused. They reported the case to the police and Inspector Carey was detailed to investigate.

BAD FOR HEALTH

The Worry of Divorces Brings Disease

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—While the facts and figures recently offered by the French statisticians—Hernie Coulon and Rene du Chavagnac of Paris—purporting to show that divorce is unhealthy are yet unconfirmed by the highest authorities of the science of statistics, many eminent practitioners in France and elsewhere think them worthy of profound reflection.

The divorced physician loses the most distinguished among his clients. The divorced merchant loses many customers.

"Whether all the above figures are exact or not, I cannot tell," said Dr. Quackenbos. "To some of them I take distinct exception offhand."

"I have always held that it is the conspicuous irreverence with which betrothal and matrimony are regarded in this day, the thoughtless entrance into conjugal bonds, the mental reservation that so commonly lurks in a resolve to meet prospective incompatibility by rupture of the marriage relation which fosters, in this country of ours, the shocking prevalence of divorce for the most unjustifiable causes."

His would indicate that the cause behind the average divorce is due to ante-nuptial carelessness rather than the subsequent tribulations of married life.

Chief Edward S. Hosmer, of the first department, is in Boston today attending the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club.

Holy Name Society Held Election of Officers

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church held its regular monthly meeting in the school hall last evening. Despite the inclement weather a large number was present. Considerable routine business was transacted and the annual election of officers was held.

President James Ward called the meeting to order. The religious office of the society was read by Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O. M. I., spiritual director.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: for president,

James Ward, re-elected; vice president, James Keefe; financial secretary, Jas. H. Cowell, re-elected; recording secretary, James P. Kerwin, re-elected; spiritual director, Rev. Fr. Tighe.

After the election the president informed the members that on next Tuesday evening a smoke talk will be held in the hall. The newly elected officers will be installed at that meeting. Rev. Fr. Tighe said that he would communicate with Rev. Fr. Connell, O. M. I., who delivered the sermon at last Sunday evening's service, and endeavor to have him address the members next Tuesday evening.

The president appointed a committee to have charge of the entertainment, and an excellent program is anticipated. A petition was read to the members, which is to be presented to the legislature for the purpose of making Columbus day, Oct. 12, a holiday. The petition received the unanimous endorsement of the society. After business was closed, from the newly elected officers the meeting adjourned.

HE MAY RECOVER

Mother Gave Blood to Save Lad's Life

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Lifegiving blood from his mother's veins so invigorated six year old Arthur Shibley that today his surgical attendants said they had every confidence that the child shot by a machine at Washington Heights last week would recover.

The operation of transfusion took place in the early hours. Mrs. Shibley, scoring anaesthetics, bore the pain without a flinch as the surgeons opened a vein in her arm. In a moment the blood from the mother's healthy system was flowing into the emaciated lad's body.

The change in the boy's appearance during the twenty minutes the transfusion was wonderful. A healthy glow came to his skin and his pale lips became ruddy. When the tube was removed the surgeons announced that the operation had been a success. Mrs. Shibley was so weak from the loss of blood that she could scarcely speak, but she smiled cheerfully as she was told her boy was much benefited by her sacrifice. Today a report in a medical ward in the hospital she was recuperating from the effects of the exhausting process.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The women's association of the Kirk Street church held an all day session yesterday in the church parlors. The members met in the morning to sew for the Lowell General hospital. At noon a luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Thompson, and short addresses were made by Mrs. S. H. Thompson, Mrs. M. F. Wood and Mrs. E. K. Stearns. A program meeting was held in the afternoon. Miss Mary Shattuck in charge, the subject being "Missions in Lowell." Papers were given by Miss Leslie Allen and Mrs. McAllister. The work of the district nurse was described by Mrs. Haven Hill. The closing address was made by Rev. James E. Gregg.

To Mrs. Stetson Won by Good Vote

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Augusta Stetson's friends have lost their fight to keep control of the First church of Christ, scientist, board of trustees. The result of the prolonged session of the congregation last night followed by balloting in the early morning hours was learned today when it was announced that the candidates of the party opposed to the former first reader had been elected by the decisive vote of 73 to 34.

The seven new trustees elected are expected to give the present first reader of the church, Virginia O. Strickler, that number of votes as against five mustered by Mrs. Stetson's friends. The anti-Stetson ticket bore the legend "Fidelity to the mother church; democratic government; retention in office" and the policy of the trustees elected on it will, it is declared, be framed in cordial sympathy with the wishes of the leaders in Boston.

There are hints that the validity of the election will be tested in the courts by Mrs. Stetson's supporters, the basis being that challenges of voters were overruled by the chairman of the meeting, but no authoritative statement on this point could be secured today.

PALACE BURNED

Fire in One of Parliament Sites

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—The palace of Chergan, one of the parliament sites, was destroyed practically by fire of accidental origin that started shortly before noon today. The chamber of deputies was burned out and the senate hall was so badly damaged that it cannot be occupied again. The palace of Chergan was built by Sultan Abdul-Azis and was the finest of the palaces on the Bosphorus. It was constructed of marble and the interior was remarkable for its beauty of the sculptured ornaments in marble and in wood. It was occupied by parliament when that body was formed a little more than a year ago.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HOME OF DR. AND MRS. LAMBERT

The members of the John Eliot Literary club, to the number of 35, met at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. John Lambert of Wannalancit street. Mrs. Adeline H. Forrest entertained the party, and Mrs. Harry J. Corwin prepared the program.

prepared and most interesting throughout.

Following this, Mrs. Corwin gave two readings, the first, Solymans' "Nativity," and the second a Turkish love song, called "The Cuckoo and the Turtle Dove."

Jesse H. Shepard gave a paper on "The Later or European Period of Turkish Poetry," which proved highly interesting to his hearers. There was also a reading by Miss Annie Saunders, one of the fables of Schinas, called "The Ass and the Fox," and Miss Antoinette Dodge gave "The Legend of St. George." The program proper closed with a reading of an Armenian patriotic song by Mrs. Corwin.

A feature of the entertainment was music furnished by an Armenian on a lute, gurdy.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served in the dining room. Mrs. Marshall Forrest and Miss Helen Lambert poured. Both the menu and the decorations were in keeping with the subject previously discussed by the club. Everything was of a Turkish atmosphere, from the red candles and their red shades, embellished with the silver star and crescent of the near east, and the red carnations everywhere in profusion, to the vases. There was "pilaff," a savory and highly spiced dish, which consisted in part of rice, tomatoes and chicken, and there was a sweet Turkish paste known as "pachlavar." Turkish nuts and candy were also included.

DEATHS

HUNTINGTON.—Mrs. Della Frances Huntington, wife of Rev. Dr. Charles W. Huntington of Toledo, Ohio, died yesterday at the home of her brother Edward P. Bliss of Lexington.

Mrs. Huntington resided in Lowell eighteen months. Her husband was pastor of the High Street Congregational church. About four years ago they went to Toledo, where Mr. Huntington became pastor of the Second Congregational church.

Mrs. Huntington was much beloved while she was in Lowell and her memory will be cherished by those whose were associated with her in the work of High Street church. She was a woman of great ability and as president of the Ladies' Aid society and club she filled the position as few women can.

Before Mrs. Huntington left Lowell she was a sufferer and an invalid, but she bore up wonderfully, even to the end of her life, and she leaves behind her a daughter, Miss Helen Huntington; two brothers, Edward P. Bliss of Lexington and Henry Bliss of Boston, and two sisters, Mrs. John Marshall of Rome, Italy, and Miss Harriette Bliss of Boston.

Mrs. Huntington's death caused a genuine sorrow in this city, and praise for her character and qualities were heard from all who knew her. She

BRITISH ELECTIONS

Of Interest to Lowell Now Before the Legislature

William O'Brien Was Elected From Cork City

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The feature of today's known returns in the general elections for members of parliament was the election of William O'Brien, independent nationalist for Cork city at the head of the poll. Augustine Roche, nationalist from the same district was also re-elected. The net result is the winning of one seat for the anti-Redmondites many of whom are contesting the elections in Ireland. The rest of the day's known returns are from Ireland and show the choice of twelve nationalists and one unionist, all unopposed.

TO REGULATE RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Uniform laws for the regulation of railroads and public utilities generally was the first subject taken up by the Civic Federation at this morning's session which was called to order by ex-Judge Alton B. Parker.

Uniformity in laws governing commercial transactions was discussed by Charles Biggs of the National Association of Credit Men.

Harvey Chase of Massachusetts, representing the National Municipal league was another speaker.

POLICE AT WORK

To Connect Ernest W. Lorentz With Murder of Woman

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 19.—Because of the similarity between the murder of Laura E. Register and the many depredations to which he has confessed the police department was at work today in an effort to discover if Ernest W. Lorentz, brought before the court today as a murderer and highwayman, had any connection with the death of the Cranston girl.

Miss Register was returning to her home along Reservoir avenue on the evening of May 10, 1909, after trying on her wedding gown at a dressmaker's. Her cut and bruised body was found the next morning behind the Jewish cemetery. No one has been charged with the crime. It was the opinion of several of the police officials at the time that the assault was the motive of the holdup.

SENATOR ALLDS

Denies the Charges Made by Senator Conger

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Entering a general denial of the accusation of Senator Conger of Tompkins county that while republican leader of the assembly he received money for aiding in the defeat of legislation before the body, Senator Jotham P. Allds, president pro tem of the senate, today asked for legislative investigation to ascertain the facts in the matter.

Referring to a question of personal privilege at the opening session Senator Allds said: "I hold in my hand a copy of the New York Evening Post under date of Jan. 18, 1910. Spread under several columns is a personal attack against my integrity and the integrity of my career. But the gist of the whole thing is to be found in the direct charge made by Senator Conger

Quite a number of bills of interest to Lowell are assigned or are soon to be assigned dates for hearings at the state house and the city solicitor is endeavoring to keep close tabs on them. Copies of the bills are sent him in advance and from his office they are sent to whatever department they may concern. Copies of the following bills have been received by the city solicitor:

House bill No. 130.—An act relative to the suppression of the elm-leaf beetle. All laws relative to the suppression of the brown-tail and spruce moths shall also apply to the suppression of the elm-leaf beetle.

And the vote of the citizens so taken shall be binding upon the city and upon the city council. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

This is part of section sixty-one of chapter 514 of the year 1909, and it reads that whoever employs a minor under the age of 16 years, and who ever procures or, having under his control a minor under such age, permits such minor to be employed in violation of the provisions of sections fifty-six and fifty-seven of this act, shall for each offense be punished by a fine of not more than $200, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

LICENSE BOARD CIVIL SESSION

Hears Charges Against Haverhill Liquor Dealer

HAVERHILL, Jan. 19.—The license board sat in special session last evening to hear evidence to substantiate charges preferred by City Marshal John J. Mack against Bartholomew Cronin & Co., proprietors of a hotel on Washington street, this city, but as Judge John J. Winn, counsel for defendant, sought specifications of the eight charges preferred, the board voted to postpone the hearing until next Monday evening. In the meantime specifications will be filed.

The eight charges allege that Cronin or his agents sold liquor after 11 o'clock at night and before 6 in the morning; that he sold to persons under the influence of liquor; to persons who had been intoxicated within six months; to a minor; that he kept a disorderly, indecent house; had ceased to engage in the business they were licensed for; and that they did not have on their premises either food or implements to provide a meal of victuals for strangers and travelers.

In the charges made by the marshal some of the dates on which the violations are alleged to have taken place are named, but no names are mentioned as to who might be referred to. Judge Winn fought stubbornly for a half hour, but the license board did not give in until City Solicitor George M. G. Nichols recommended that a postponement be ordered to next Monday night and that in the meantime the marshal furnish specifications. Judge Winn sparred for time, for in any event Cronin will not be able to engage in his business after May 1, the city having gone no-license.

JOHN R. WALSH TWO BIG SUITS

Will Reach Leavenworth This Afternoon

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—John R. Walsh, the former Chicago financier, on his way to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. to serve his sentence of five years for misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National bank, arrived in Kansas City this morning. As the party of officials and relatives that accompanied Mr. Walsh was alighting from the train a newspaper photographer who had raised his camera to take a snapshot of the travelers was attacked by John W. Walsh, son of the prisoner.

Swinging his suit case with tremendous force, young Walsh literally mowed down the newspaper man, driving him and his camera against the side of a Pullman sleeper.

The photographer fell in a heap while the camera fell beneath the car a half dozen feet away. The party remained in the waiting room while a train was being made up by the Missouri Pacific to complete the remainder of the trip to the penitentiary. The departure for Leavenworth was made twenty minutes later.

Mrs. Greene Takes Two From Pittsfield Shakers

PITTSFIELD, Jan. 19.—A sensational kidnapping occurred at the West Pittsfield Shaker settlement late Monday afternoon, when Lillith May Robinson, a Boston nurse and the divorced wife of George H. Greene of Springfield, got possession of her two little daughters who had been placed with the Shakers, bundled them into a sleigh and escaped to this city, leaving yesterday for Boston.

Mrs. Robinson, as she calls herself, arrived here Monday and took a room at the American house. She immediately engaged a team of horses and a two-seated sleigh from a local liveryman and drove to the Shaker settlement, three miles west of Pittsfield.

Arriving there she met Eldresses Emoretta and Carolina and asked to see Florence and Gertrude Greene, saying that she was their Aunt Elsie.

Florence, aged 11, and Gertrude, aged 8, were overjoyed when their mother met them, but she cautioned them not to say anything and presently asked if she might take them out for a drive. Being somewhat suspicious the Shakers refused, but permitted them to step out "to see the horses."

The children had no outside wraps and as they reached the sleigh, the woman quickly lifted them in, wrapped them in the heavy robes and the driver whipped up his horses.

In an interview after the kidnapping Mrs. Robinson said that she was married to George H. Greene, a traveling salesman, more than 20 years ago and that five children were born to them, of whom the two girls figuring in Monday's sensation were the youngest.

She said that they were happy for many years, but two years ago her husband became unreasonably jealous and trouble ensued which resulted in her seeking a divorce on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment.

Relying on her husband's promise that the children should be well cared for Mrs. Robinson says she waived all claim on them, another reason being that she was without means and had to go to work to support herself.

It was agreed that she should see the children when she desired, but she asserted that her husband did not keep his agreement and the children were placed beyond her reach.

She but recently learned that the girls were brought to Pittsfield by Cora Stemp, who lives in the same house with Mr. Greene in Springfield.

Greene, it is said, arranged to pay the Shakers $2 a week for a year, after which time the children were to be given over to the Shakers until they were 21. Mrs. Robinson said that she objected to having her daughters brought up by the Shakers, although admitting that they had been very kind to them.

She said that as she expects soon to marry a Boston physician she determined to get possession of them and bring them up herself.

Mrs. Robinson is a woman of 35 and the children are bright and promising. The mother registered at the hotel as "Mrs. Adams, Boston," and talked freely regarding the recovery of her children.

KILLED BY DOGS PATROLMAN FOX

Buck Deer Devoured by Canines Placed On Retired List Last Night

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 19.—The extermination of the deer in the towns of Peterboro, Lyndeboro, and the town of Dublin, and through the mountain section of southern New Hampshire by packs of hounds, is being investigated by Fish and Game Commissioners Nathaniel Wentworth and Charles B. Clarke.

Mr. Wentworth returned yesterday from the prosecution of several cases in Rindge, and brings with him a story of the sport of deer hunting.

It was noticeable that during the last deer hunting season there were mentioned, while in Nashua and the thickly settled part of Hillsboro county the score was about the same as in previous years.

Investigation of these conditions showed that packs of dogs without collars had been turned out by their masters and were organized like wolves in chasing deer. Many deer have been killed in this way and those that survive are in the most remote sections.

The commissioners found that in one case a pack of six dogs was following this practice, and had recently run down a buck and killed and devoured him. R. F. Jones of Rindge succeeded in rounding up four of the dogs and informed the commissioners.

It was found that Joseph Silva was the owner of three of the dogs and W. R. Souther of the other. Both men, who are residents of New Ipswich, were taken before Judge Thrasher of Rindge. As a result of the hearing the dogs were killed.

Expect to Win the Upper Hand

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Unionist morning papers in their editorials indicate that the party has recovered from the slight disappointment which followed Monday's polling, and now has full confidence in its ability to reduce the government's majority as to place the ministers in the power of the nationalists and laborites.

The unionists rely upon the contests in the counties, which will begin today, to give them further considerable gains.

Today's list includes several county seats which were gained by the liberals in 1906 by the narrowest of majorities and these are fully expected to fall into the unionist net.

The Daily Telegraph says: "The unionists may rest absolutely certain that the fight is justifying itself every day. The situation is now working out that if they keep cool heads and confident hearts the future will be their own."

The liberal organs express some disappointment, but still are confident that the government will secure a good working majority.

THE DEFENSE IS STILL PRESENTING TESTIMONY

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—Contrary to expectations, the defense failed to rest its case yesterday afternoon in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted here by Mrs. Howard Christy for possession of her daughter Natalie. The entire day was taken up by the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christy, the artist's father and mother, and Miss Rose Christy, his sister.

Mr. Christy said that for the past year she had acted as the real guardian of little Natalie.

The testimony of the father and mother recited alleged scenes that were enacted at their home in which Mrs. Christy and Purdy, the chauffeur, were shown up in an unenviable light. Both testified to the alleged liquor drinking and misconduct of their daughter-in-law.

Christy's mother testified that she did not believe the stories of his alleged debauchery until he, himself, acknowledged to her that he had left New York in his temptations. He himself proved his ruin. When asked whether she thought Christian Science had brought about her son's reformation, she said simply, "God has answered his mother's prayers."

Miss Rose Christy testified that during a quarrel between the artist and his wife at the Christy home last summer, the wife threatened to kill both Howard and Natalie before she would give up her baby.

TO BE ERRECTED IN NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Jan. 19.—An increase in capitalization from $750,000 to $1,500,000, the announcement of the creation of a new mill of 50,000 spindles and the probable declaration of a cash dividend of 33 1/3 per cent. were the important matters acted upon by stockholders of the Kilburn mill, yesterday. New shares, to effect the increase in capitalization, will be issued at a par value of $100.

MUST SERVE SENTENCE

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 19.—John Godwin, political lieutenant of T. Coleman Du Pont, president of the Du Pont Powder Co. and republican state chairman, must serve two years in jail for attempted bribery. The state supreme court at Dover, yesterday affirmed the decision of the judges of the New Castle county court, who pronounced Godwin guilty.

PRICE OF MILK

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—The winter price of milk, nine cents a quart, will be continued through next summer, according to a vote taken by the Boston Co-Operative Milk Producers company at its annual meeting late yesterday. It has been customary to make a reduction to eight cents for the summer. The increasing cost of milk production was given as the cause.

ANTI-FOOD TRUST LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Applications for 200,000 members made to the Anti-Food Trust League recently organized to fight by boycott, high food prices, already have been received. It was announced yesterday after the first meeting of the board of directors of the association.

Letter has been received from President Taft. It is said, in which he endorsed the movement.

Vote for Bowers for City Civil Engineer

For city civil engineer George Bowers, the present incumbent, is sold in the board of aldermen. The board met last night and proceeded, again, to the election of a city civil engineer. George Bowers was elected on the part of the board of aldermen. The common council at its last meeting elected Frederick W. Farnham. They do say that the common council will take different action at its next meeting.

The board did not confirm the appointment of William T. Mahan as inspector of wires, and voted to postpone action on the appointment of Dr. Pierre Brunelle, Jr., for the board of health.

An ordinance having to do with the position of assistant superintendent of said aid was referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation. The appointment of Orville W. Peabody as poundkeeper was confirmed.

The New England Oil company petitioned for permission to handle crude petroleum in Ryan street, and the petition was referred to the committee on licenses and streets.

Petitions for smooth paving in Dutton street and Massam block paving in Appleton street were referred to the committee on streets.

Davis & Sargent Lumber company petitioned that block paving be laid in Middlebury street from the depot to the Franklin school, and the petition was referred to the committee on streets, in concurrence.

Routine appointments to positions of weighers of coal and hay, constables, surveyors and fence viewers were confirmed.

The appointment of Wm. H. Mahan as inspector of wires was rejected on a strictly party vote. Aldermen Connors, Carmichael and Breunnen voting for confirmation.

On motion of Alderman Adams the appointment of Dr. Pierre Brunelle, Jr. as a member of the board of health, to succeed Dr. Leonard Huntress, was tabled until the next meeting.

An ordinance amending an ordinance relative to the appointment of a superintendent and assistant superintendent of state aid was introduced. It provided that the superintendent and the assistant superintendent of state aid be named by the mayor and that they be subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council; also that the assistant have the same power vested in the superintendent, provided the latter is absent, or incapacitated.

It was voted to refer the matter to the committee on ordinance and legislation.

On motion of Alderman Ryan the board proceeded to the election of a city civil engineer.

Stephen Kearney received the support of Aldermen Brennan and Connors, while the other members voted for George Bowers. The latter was declared elected in non concurrence with the common council.

A joint order introduced by Alderman Adams providing for the payment of street watering assessments from the general tax levy was read and put over for a hearing in joint convention provided the common council takes concurrent action.

BOATS COLLIDED

Two Steamers and Schooner Damaged

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—Two steamers and a three masted schooner were damaged by a collision between the steamers in the harbor opposite Castle Island just after dark last night, the steamers finally landing on the flats beside the channel.

The two steamers were the Melrose, inward-bound from Newport News, laden with coal, and the Vera of Christianah, Norway, outward bound for Norfolk. The two collided, the Vera striking a deep dent into a plate under the port quarter of the Melrose and forcing her on the East Boston flats.

The Vera then drifted under the bow of the schooner Malcolm Baxter, Jr., inward-bound from Mannagaw, N. J., carrying away her head gear and breaking off the foremost of the Vera. The Vera then grounded on the South Boston flats.

No one was injured and the two steamers will be floated in the morning. It is expected.

LIQUOR MEN PLEADED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Praise for President Taft's recent decision on "what is whiskey" was sung yesterday by Timothy L. McDonough, president of the National Liquor League, in his report to the organization now in annual session here. Mr. McDonough declared the president "had given the prohibitionists a vital blow" by his decision. He asserted that "the storm of prohibition that has swept the country for the past two years, has spent its force."

The Government's Brief in the To be Applied to a Number of Case Filed American Articles

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—The government's brief in its suit to break up the alleged anthracite coal trust was filed in the U. S. circuit court yesterday by William S. Gregg, special assistant to the attorney general. The suit was brought in April, 1907, and the government's case was prepared by G. Carroll Todd and J. C. McReynolds. The nearly three years since the action was brought has been taken up with the examination of witnesses for both sides.

The principal defendants are the Reading company, Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company, Lehigh Valley Railroad company, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Erie Railroad company, New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, Lehigh Valley Coal company, Pennsylvania Coal company, Hilsdale Coal and Iron company, New York, Susquehanna & Western Coal company and Temple Iron company.

The government contends that all the defendants have long been parties to a general combination and conspiracy, which stifles competition and obstructs trade, and commerce among the states in anthracite coal, and that they have monopolized the trade.

court to restrain and enjoin the alleged monopoly and to further enjoin the defendants from carrying out the contract with the so-called independent companies by which the latter turn over their product to the larger companies for 65 per cent of the tidewater selling price.

The government contends that the stock of the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, owned by the Erie, the stock of the Jersey Central, owned by the Reading company, the stock of the Temple Iron company, owned by several of the defendants, the stock of the Pennsylvania Coal company and Delaware Valley & Kingston Railroad company, owned by the Erie, and the stock of Cox & Bros. & Co., owned by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, was acquired in violation of the anti-trust act, under which the suit was brought, and the court is asked to enjoin the defendants from voting this stock or from sharing in the dividends or other profits of these companies.

In support of its contention the government cites the decision in the Northern Securities case and in the case of Swift & Co. vs. the United States.

The defendants have 20 days to file their briefs and arguments will be heard before Judges Gray, Buffington and Lanning on Feb. 21.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 19.—That mills are to be erected on both sides of the Merrimack river and that a dam of immense proportions will soon be built near Mitchell's Falls, between this city and Lawrence, utilizing water power which for years has gone to waste, was learned today.

The power of the big Lawrence dam is taken up by the large number of mills in its immediate vicinity, and it is understood that the Essex company of Lawrence is buying up the land near Mitchell's Falls.

There is also a movement on foot to construct a canal across the neck of a small peninsula in the river, from a point opposite Barker's island, on the Bradford shore, to a point below the lower falls, where there is deep water. This plan was advanced three years ago when land was bought and a right of way obtained by A. W. Cram of this city, who still owns the property.

The J. W. Wilbur Land company has recently disposed of its holdings in the vicinity to H. P. Binney of Canton.

Found to be at Death's Door

WORCESTER, Jan. 19.—Anders P. Jansson, also known as Andrew P. Johnson, the Swedish hermit who has lived the life of a recluse in the woods at the lower end of Quinsigamond village for several years, subsisting on the charity of his fellow countrymen, was removed from his miserable hovel to the city hospital yesterday by ex-Alderman Wilhelm G. Forsberg and Clerk Thomas Brown of the overseers of the poor.

From a life of luxury in his native land, where he was considered one of the most accomplished organists and where his ability was shown in many of the leading churches, to a miserable existence in a hovel where he has passed his recent years as an object of charity from adults and a person shunned by the children, tells in brief the story of Johnson.

His sudden change was brought about by the rejection of his love by a girl in his native land. This much he has admitted to a few of those who have befriended him, but he has not yet gone into any of the details of his life. He was taken ill last Thursday and his condition became such that he had to have medical care, but he rejected all advances of this kind from the residents of Quinsigamond. His case was called to the attention of the overseers of the poor and Clerk Thomas Brown said that he never saw a worse-looking man in all his experience as the executive officer of the poor department dating back almost 20 years.

The officers of the poor department went to the hovel in a hack to take Johnson to the home farm, but his condition was such that they gave up this plan and summoned the police ambulance, in which he was taken to City hospital. Johnson is 78 years of age and his illness is due to old age and neglect.

YOUNG COWBOY

Shot by Comrade Probably in Play

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Fourteen year old Morris Eisenberg was shot and killed yesterday. A victim of "cowboy" play. A playmate is believed to have accidentally fired the fatal shot.

Young Eisenberg was found dead in the hallway of his home on Allen street, a bullet through his heart. It looked at first to the police as if they had a puzzling murder mystery to solve, but inquiry developed that the boy, with several companions togged out with the paraphernalia of the legendary "wildcat," had been playing in the house in the absence of Eisenberg's sister, with whom he lived.

A revolver with which the shooting had evidently been done was found in one of the rooms, together with improvised swords of lath, bandana kerchiefs, gauntlets and cowboy clothing. The dead lad himself wore a belt with a conical knife through it.

Eisenberg's companions in the bit of fatal sport were seen leaving the room shortly before the lad himself staggered out and down the stairs, where he dropped dead. There is believed to have been no adult witness to the shooting.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 19.—The sobs of men and women could be heard in all parts of Portland auditorium last evening as hundreds raised their hands, kerchiefs in memory of deceased relatives and friends and softly sang "There's a Land Fairer Than Day" at the close of a sermon by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, the evangelist. It was one of the most impressive scenes ever witnessed at a religious service in this state. No attempt was made to have converts declare themselves. Dr. Chapman saying that he did not wish to take advantage of the people's emotions and adding "Let your tears come and go home and think it over. I want you to think, you mothers who have children in the skies. If you are not ready I beseech you to get ready. I can't think of anything worse than for a father to bring children into this world and not lead them straight into glory."

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The government has decided that in the event of an agreement upon a reciprocal tariff between the United States and Germany is not reached by Feb. 7, the running arrangement expiring then, Germany's tariff rates must under the law be applied to American imports, at present coming in under the conventional tariff. One hundred and twenty-seven articles will be affected.

It was, however, semi-officially declared today that the tariff negotiations with the United States had not been broken off and it was added that time remained for a settlement of the differences between the two countries.

In the absence of such a settlement the general tariff rates will go into effect automatically at midnight of February 7.

FATHER TOO LATE

To Prevent Marriage of His Daughter

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Miss M. Lindsay Clark of Virginia became Mrs. Reid in spite of the fact that her father, Franklin Clark, chartered a fast train here and pursued her to Washington to prevent her marriage to Archer Reid of Baltimore.

The father caught up with the runaway couple just in time to be present at the wedding dinner their Baltimore friends were giving them at the Hotel Arlington in Washington.

"Glad you, my children," was all Mr. Clark could say when after he found himself beaten by the clergymen, neither of whom is yet 20, he joined in drinking their health.

The young couple met last winter. The girl's father is very wealthy and allied with the most prominent families of Virginia. His wife was a noted beauty.

In order to keep the young couple apart Mr. Clark sent his daughter away from Baltimore recently, and she, with her mother, has been stopping in Plushing, L. I. Apparently, the lovers found some means of communicating, for Miss Clark slipped out of the house early yesterday and in the late afternoon was married to young Reid at the Trinity Episcopal church in Washington. The Rev. Dr. Williams, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

While he was pronouncing the words that made them man and wife, the bride's father, who had been notified by telegram that Miss Clark had taken matters into her own hands and run off, had chartered a fast train and the tracks were ordered cleared for the speedy passage of the anti-Cupid special.

It didn't take Mr. Clark long after his arrival in Washington to learn that he was just too late. He rushed from the church to the hotel, where the wedding march was being played by an orchestra in the private dining-room the party had engaged.

"You are too late, father," exclaimed

"Please forgive us."

Mr. Clark hesitated a bit and then gave in. He gathered his daughter in his arms and shook hands with the bridegroom while the guests showered their congratulations.

The ceremony was witnessed by Dr. Lewis M. Allen of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tachem, the latter formerly Miss Polly Mason of Virginia, John Elliott and Paul Portner.

Miss Clark was to have been one of this season's debutantes in this city, but had decided to defer her coming out until next year. Her mother was Miss Lindsay Poor, a sister of Miss Sally Poor, and her marriage at Mount Calvary church, Baltimore, about 20 years ago, was a notable event in society there.

Causes Debility

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; you else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucun-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alternative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucun-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Mucun-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, 1141 & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack street.

The imperial consultative commercial board composed of manufacturers, financiers and economists, has been summoned to meet on Jan. 24 and consider the trade position taken by the United States. The government wishes to explain to the board its attitude.

Last night's speech of Herr Goldberger, privy councillor, before the American Association of Commerce and Trade in which the speaker indicated that Germany was not disposed to give way to the United States was based, it was learned on Goldberger's personal inquiries in governmental quarters. The newspapers today note with some concern that Germany was omitted from President Taft's proclamation of yesterday in which the countries to profit by the minimum rates at United States ports were announced.

BOLD ROBBERIES

Scared by Bluff, Afraid of Gun

WALTHAM, Jan. 19.—Two bold hold-up men armed with revolvers lost so much of their courage that they fled from the grocery store of Joseph Dix in the West End last night after his aged proprietor had led them to the store that he meant to do some shooting himself.

Dix, who is 72 years old, was alone in his store on Charles street avenue at 6.30 when two rough looking men entered the place, drew revolvers, which they thrust in his face and shouted "Hands up."

The proprietor complied with the order, and they then informed him that they were after his "roll" and his life would not be worth "a row of pins" if he did not produce.

"Now that you understand," cried one, "down with your hands and get us the stuff. No tricks or it will be the worse for you."

Dix let his hands drop to his sides and went behind the counter, then ducked underneath, thundering out that he, too, now held a gun, which announcement caused both men to depart on the run.

The police were notified of the affair and searched through the West End and Roberts for the men, but failed to apprehend them. Mr. Dix stated that neither was over 25 years old, and that they had apparently come from the direction of the railroad.

The groceryman is reputed to be well off, and rumors have prevailed that he was in the habit of keeping large sums about the store, so the police are of the opinion that some local characters, hearing of this planned a robbery, but lost their nerve when they thought him armed.

BODY OF A CHILD

Was Found Packed in a Dress Suit Case

WORCESTER, Jan. 19.—After carrying the body of her 4-months-old baby girl in a dress suit case from Gloucester through Boston to Worcester, Miss Mary Ostrom, a laundress in the state colony at Medford, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of concealing the infant's death. A more serious complaint was wiped out by an autopsy on the body by Medical Examiner Baker, who found death was caused by double pneumonia and scrofula.

Miss Ostrom has been rooming at 82 Hanover street, Worcester, since the birth of the baby and last Saturday she left the house with the child without saying where she was going. She returned yesterday with a dress suit case and the suspicion of the neighbors was aroused. They reported the case to the police and Inspector Carey was detailed to investigate.

The young woman told him she took the child to Boston and put her in the City hospital, where she died Sunday, and that she was buried by the overseers of the poor. The police investigating this story and found it was untrue.

The woman was then brought to police headquarters, and she insisted on taking the dress suit case along. She repeated her story to Chief Matthews and Capt. of Detectives O'Day, and they opened the suit case to see if they could get further evidence. Inside they found the baby's body.

Miss Ostrom then said she went to Gloucester Saturday night and begged a night's lodging from a woman. She passed Sunday walking around Gloucester and when night fell she had lost her bearings and went to sleep on a bench in a park. The child perished during the night from the cold and she found the babe dead in her arms when she awoke Monday morning. Having no money to pay for burial and having no friends in Gloucester, she placed the body in the dress suit case and returned to Worcester, where she was planning to appeal for help when arrested.

BAD FOR HEALTH

The Worry of Divorces Brings Disease

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—While the facts and figures recently offered by the French statisticians—Henri Coulon and Rene de Chavagnac of Paris—purporting to show that divorce is unhealthy are yet unconfirmed by the highest authorities of the science of statistics, many eminent practitioners in France and elsewhere think them worthy of profound reflection.

Dr. J. Duncan Quackenbos, author of "The Psychology of Happy Marriage," says that if their statistics and the deductions therefrom can be proved "there is a most important discovery."

The French statistics submitted read as follows:

Average days of illness of a grown up person per year, four days.

Average days of illness of divorced man per year, 11 days.

Average days of illness of divorced woman per year, 16 days.

Consumption demands more victims among divorced men.

Mental diseases demand more victims among divorced women.

On the average, divorced persons suffer financial setbacks, probably in consequence of physical and mental deterioration.

The divorced artist has fewer original ideas.

The divorced physician loses his most prominent patients.

The divorced lawyer loses the most distinguished among his clients.

The divorced merchant loses many customers.

"Whether all the above figures are exact or not, I cannot tell," said Dr. Quackenbos. "To some of them I take distinct exception offhand."

"I have always held that it is the conspicuous irreverence with which betrudal and matrimonial are regarded in this day, the thoughtless entrance into conjugal bonds, the mental reservation that so commonly lurks in a resolve to meet prospective incompatibility by rupture of the marriage relation which fosters, in this country of ours, the shocking prevalence of divorce for the most unjustifiable causes."

"This would indicate that the cause behind the average divorce is due to ante-nuptial carelessness rather than the subsequent tribulations of married life."

As to the general causes of mental diseases among divorced persons, several New York physicians and lawyers hold that in many cases remorse is at the bottom of the derangement.

Chief Edward S. Hooper, of the fire department, is in Boston today attending the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club.

Holy Name Society Held Election of Officers

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church held its regular monthly meeting in the school hall last evening. Despite the inclement weather a large number was present. Considerable routine business was transacted and the annual election of officers was held.

President James Ward called the meeting to order. The religious office of the society was read by Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., spiritual director.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: for president,

James Keefe; financial secretary, Jas. H. Cowell, re-elected; recording secretary, James P. Kerwin, re-elected; spiritual director, Rev. Fr. Tighe.

After the election the president informed the members that on next Tuesday evening a smoke talk will be held in the hall. The newly elected officers will be installed at that meeting.

Rev. Fr. Tighe said that he would communicate with Rev. Fr. Connell, O. M. I., who delivered the sermon at last Sunday evening's service, and endeavor to have him address the members next Tuesday evening.

The president appointed a committee to have charge of the entertainment, and an excellent program is anticipated. A petition was read to the members, which is to be presented to the legislature for the purpose of making Columbus day, Oct. 12, a holiday.

The petition received the unanimous endorsement of the society. After remarks were heard from the newly elected officers the meeting adjourned.

The re-election of Messrs. Ward, Cowell and Kerwin as president, financial and recording secretary, respectively, shows their popularity with the members. Mr. Ward enters upon his third term as president and his reelection for the society is highly appreciated.

THE OPPOSITION

To Mrs. Stetson Won by Good Vote

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Augusta Stetson's friends have lost their fight to keep control of the First church of Christ, scientist, board of trustees. The result of the prolonged session of the congregation last night followed by balloting in the early morning hours was learned today when it was announced that the candidates of the party opposed to the former first readers had been elected by the decisive vote of 733 to 486.

The seven new trustees elected are expected to give the present first reader of the church, Virginia O. Strickler, that number of votes as against five mustered by Mrs. Stetson's friends.

The anti-Stetson ticket bore the legend "Loyalty to the mother church; democracy to government; retention in office" and the policy of the trustees elected on it will, it is declared, be framed in cordial sympathy with the wishes of the leaders in Boston.

There are hints that the validity of the election will be tested in the courts by Mrs. Stetson's supporters, the basis being that challenges of voters were overruled by the chairman of the meeting, but no authoritative statement on this point could be secured today.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: for president,

James Ward, re-elected; vice president,

LOUIS PAULHAN MURDER CHARGE

Established New Record for Cross-Country Flight

William Luder Arrested in Banking Section of Providence

AVIATION FIELD, Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 19.—Louis Paulhan, in his Farman biplane yesterday made what aviation experts regard as the most remarkable cross-country flight in history. On the wings of a wind that other aviators hesitated to face, the Frenchman dived from Aviation field to "Lucky" Baldwin's ranch, 23 miles away, circled the old Santa Anita race track and bucked his way to his tent. In all he covered an estimated distance of 414 miles in one hour, two minutes, 43 4-5 seconds. He flew to Baldwin's with the wind in 30 minutes and came back against it in 33 minutes. When he finished he said that the motor was as cool as when he started and that he could repeat the trip at once.

The only test approaching Paulhan's feat was that made by one of the Wrights last fall in a flight with an army officer from Washington to Alexandria and back.

Bleriot, Latham, Farman and Cody have made flights nearly as long, but they did not return. Cody flew forty miles at Aldershot in 63 last fall. Farman took a 20 mile run to spend a day fishing with a friend, but he landed at one end of the trip.

It is probable that the prize of $1000 will go to Paulhan, but there will be much official pondering and cabling before a new world's record is recorded in his favor.

Paulhan maintained an altitude of from 1000 to 2000 in his way over the valley. His highest point was 1330 feet.

Under him, speeding over country roads were automobiles, equestrians and motor cycles, trying to be near the machine should Paulhan fall or have to descend. Mrs. Paulhan was in one of the pursuing automobiles, praying and crying.

When Paulhan reached the grandstand on his return, he was mobbed. The crowd broke through the barriers. The aviator was borne over the field. His countrymen kissed him and wept in joy.

This event was the only one of importance in the day's meet. Curses did not follow the air until after Paulhan had been away for half an hour. Then he gave a pretty exhibition of fancy starting and manoeuvring.

The wind came up suddenly and for a time it looked as though the program would be spoiled. At 2 o'clock nothing had happened except a few slides over the field and the crowd began to howl. Paulhan rose to the occasion. Without any announcement his machine appeared at the far west corner, beating against the wind, then it came around with the wind at 60 miles an hour.

Paulhan came down as though he had decided against further flying, but before the crowd had time to forget their first wonder he rose over their heads again and pointed the flat nose of the big white plane toward the mountains. It was 3:09 o'clock.

Are All Advertised Medicines Fakes?

As well ask "Are all doctors quacks?" or "Are all lawyers shysters?" We all know there are ignorant quacks; does that prevent anyone calling in his good, old family physician in case of need and trusting him? There are shysters, but there are also honorable lawyers to whom we confidently trust our lives and fortunes.

There are fake medicines advertised; but they are not fakes because they are advertised. A good thing is worth advertising; we all want to know about it. The more a bad thing is advertised, the worse for it in the end.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is no fake; yet it is advertised; it advertises itself; and those who have used it are its best advertisers, and that free of cost.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved its merit by more than thirty years general use. This simple, old-fashioned remedy, made from roots and herbs, has become the standard medicine for ailments peculiar to women,—its fame is world-wide.

Read this plain, honest statement of what the medicine did for one woman; her own words; if you doubt, write and ask her.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back hurt, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so when I saw your advertisement in a paper one day, I wrote to you for advice. I have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier, and Liver Pills, and used the Sanative Wash, and now I have my health. We keep your medicine always in the house."—Mrs. Benj. H. Stansbury, Route No. 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test of years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 19.—William Luder, alias Luther, arrested yesterday in the banking section of Providence on the charge of holding up Sanford Burton, Jr., Monday on Angell road, North Providence, was identified last night by George Williams, who alleges he is the murderer of Gilbert Mann.

Williams says the prisoner is the bandit who met them on the roadway in Johnston near Waterman's woods Jan. 8 and shot Mann twice, when he lashed up his horse and attempted to escape by driving over the robber. There are five at least highway robberies charged up against Luder.

Yesterday afternoon William A. H. Comstock came to Providence from his country house in Cranston and identified Luder as the man who held him up Dec. 22 at the point of a revolver and robbed him of $2 and two watches.

Later two girls called at police headquarters and said the prisoner was the man who robbed them on Lexington avenue just before Christmas. Luder will be turned over to the police of Johnston. A warrant charging murder was made out against him last night. It was in that town that Mann was mortally wounded.

Pawn Ticket Evidence

A pawn ticket may play an important part in the case. Last Thursday the prisoner pawned some goods in Fall River, Mass. Last night it was said at police headquarters that a watch stolen from one of the victims in the recent robbery had been recovered in that place.

In the presence of the police and newspaper representatives Luder at headquarters narrated the details of his last known holdup, that of Sanford

SENATOR ROOT SWOPE'S DOCTOR

Wants Court to Draft Is the Husband of Victim's Niece

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Two distinct features marked the sessions of the Civic Federation yesterday, the unexpected speech of Senator Root and the deep interest displayed by leaders in the labor world and employers of labor in the question of compensating employees for injuries.

Mr. Root, who was not on the program, astonished the conference when he suggested the creation of a commissioners' court to draft uniform laws in conformity with suggestions made in the conference of the Civic Federation. He said:

"It is apparent that there is a wide field of governmental activity which belongs to the United States and which does not fall within the power of the National Civic Federation. But there is a great variety of most important legislation affecting not only the individual state, but a great number of sister states, and we are looking for greater efficiency in law making and enforcement of the propositions which are before us."

The discussion on the subject of compensation for accidents brought into the field of speakers Samuel Gompers, John Hayes Hammond, John Mitchell, August Belmont and George M. Gillett. Mr. Gompers declared the European mine owner had a better conception of the care of his employees and the operation of his plant than the American mine owner.

He said the United States was the most backward of all countries in protecting those who by accident were deprived of their earning capacity, and he insisted the life and limb of the employee should be of as much concern to the employer as the product of the employee's hands.

Mr. Mitchell followed in much the same strain, and asserted that "we are killing more men in America in the mines than in any country in the world and reports show that the fatalities are increasing every year."

John Hayes Hammond voiced the belief that the number of fatal accidents in mines could be reduced more than 35 per cent by raising the standards of safety. He started his hearers by stating that there were five hundred deaths in 1898 about five hundred million tons of coal at a cost of 2450 human lives.

Mr. Belmont declared that "labor will be attracted to the states affording it the fairest and safest protection and the employer will hail this, too, as an advantage to himself." He advocated the passage by the states of laws compelling corporations to make adequate and definite provision for the health, safety and ultimate support of employees, when injured or incapacitated.

The morning session of the convention was devoted to papers on banking laws, control of corporations, taxation and road and automobile laws. Those participating in the presentation of the subject were Pierre Jay of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks; Louis E. Pierson, president of the American Bankers association; John C. Riechberg, chairman of the committee on corporations; Joseph E. Sterrett, president of the American Association of Public Accountants; Edward J. J. Seligman, chairman of the department of taxation; National Civic Federation; Charles T. Terry, general counsel, American Automobile association, and Gen. Horace MacFarland, president of the American Civic association.

WANT PAY INCREASED
BOSTON, Jan. 19.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks, through their chairman of the system of the board of adjustment, James Smith, last night presented the request of clerical help to the department of taxation, National Civic Federation, Charles T. Terry, general counsel, American Automobile association, and Gen. Horace MacFarland, president of the American Civic association.

Resolutions were adopted by the conference referring to recommendations of the commissioners on uniform laws, and calling upon the governors now in session here to urge the enactment of the negotiable instruments act; the warehouse receipts act; the sales act; the bill of lading act; and the uniform divorce act.

The convention adjourned at 10 a. m. today.

While there are several instances in the history of the courts of Maine where jurors have been dismissed in this way, this is said to be the first time in the history of the supreme court in York county that it has been done.

The discharging of the jurors necessitated the drawing of others to take their places and last night the municipal officers of this city and Biddeford, in compliance with orders of the court, held special sessions to draw jurors to finish out the present term of court. "Dunn" was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance. At his trial yesterday, Geo. Herman of Westbrook, a Sturgis deputy employed by Sheriff Charles O. Emery to get evidence, testified to buying liquor at Dunn's place Dec. 17 and 18.

ATTACKS GIFFORD'S THEORY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—There is no relation between the denudation of forests and the precipitation of rain or floods or droughts. Thus does Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau attack a fundamental theory of Gifford Pinchot, formerly chief forester, in a report in the hands of the house committee on agriculture. Mr. Moore says: "The runoff of our rivers is not materially affected by any other factor than the precipitation except that the forest by facilitating evaporation and entirely small or moderate rainfalls during dry weather may slightly intensify low water conditions."

Further he says that "the high waters are not higher and the low waters are not lower than formerly," nor are floods "of greater frequency and longer duration than formerly."

Precipitation controls forestation, Mr. Moore declares, but forestation has little or no effect upon precipitation.

Would You Enjoy Healthy Old Age?

Advancing years bring a tendency to coldness of the hands and feet, resulting from sluggish circulation, a torpid liver and constipation. This is a condition, not a disease, and can best be remedied by taking Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills which invigorate the liver, cleanse and revitalize the blood and tone up the whole system. They are of inestimable value, not only in advanced age, but also for people of all ages. They prevent premature wrinkles, give a health glow to the skin, and under their antiseptic and blood cleansing influences the complexion retains its freshness while sallowness permanently disappears.

Hundreds of grateful old ladies in their letters write: "Your pills make me look and feel ten years younger." Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always make old age comfortable, and promote digestion and nutrition by their specific action on the stomach, liver and bowels. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These Little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

SACO, Me., Jan. 19.—A sensational aftermath to the first liquor case tried before a drawn jury in the supreme court at the criminal session came yesterday afternoon, when the jurors who had returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of James Dunn of 45 Water street, Biddeford, charged with maintaining a nuisance, were called into court by Judge Albert M. Spear and discharged for the remainder of the term.

The judge said in dismissing them: "I wish to say to you gentlemen that in view of the verdict rendered this noon in the case tried it seems to me it would be highly improbable that the state could produce sufficient evidence to convince your judgments of the commission of an offense beyond a reasonable doubt, and the communities look to the court for protection in their duty to dismiss you from further service during this term of court, and you may retire to the treasurer's office, where you will receive your commissions."

The discharged jurors were Otis E. Sibley of Ellsworth, St. Croix of Wilton, Edward B. Ridley of Shapleigh, Everett M. Meserve of Bid-
